DOWN GOES THE OLD WASH-HOUSE

A giant Ghilotti Brothers clamshell takes huge bites out of the old Sam Long Laundry building at 1107 Second Street, San Rafael. The building was razed today to make way for new construction. It had been a landmark—and in use as a laundry under the same name—since early days of San Rafael. (Independent-Journal photo)

State Threatens County Hospital Closure Jan. 1

Action Hinges On Safety Improvements

Marin County not only faces possibility of staggering losses in federal and state medical payments but its condemned county hospital must go out of use next Jan. 1 unless it acts to make the buildings safe by state standards.

This bad news hit county supervisors yesterday in the course of revelations of a crisis long forecast, but even worse than expected.

Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell and Welfare Director Betty L. Presley combined to bring out a story with two major points:

1. The hospital cannot qualify for federal-state payments under the new medical aid for the aged program, meaning a loss of $76,000 during the current fiscal year.

2. Its license may not be renewed Jan. 1, which would mean total evacuation. This would also take away an additional $56,661 in state funds.

15 DAYS NOTICE

A letter dated last Thursday put the county on 15 days notice to submit satisfactory plans for correction of hazards about which state officials have repeatedly complained.

In 1957, the state put the county on notice it must either earthquake-proof the hospital or build a new one. Neither has yet been done.

First reaction of the board was to seek means of compliance. Some hope was seen in an impending meeting next week with Frank E. Marsh, president of the International Industrial Institute, Ltd., of San Francisco, who has been dickering on a plan for private construction of a 150-bed old people's home to be leased by the county.

Mitchell made a proposal, generally following lines of one drafted last Jan. 17 by Administrator Alan Bruce, for immediate corrective moves, with major costs put forward into the next fiscal year.

40-CENT TAX RATE

This scheme would continue the 40-cent tax rate now in effect for the civic center administration building but switch its proceeds to repair of the hospital.

Yesterday's session seemed confused and confusing because it included revelations of backstage maneuvering through most of the present month.

Miss Presley led off by reporting she had discovered that standards for institutions eligible to get payments under the medical aid for the aged program seemed to exclude Marin's county hospital.

Chairman William D. Fusselman cut in to say that Mitchell had suggested a financial method for coping with the hospital dilemma and said he and Supervisor William Gnoss had conferred on the matter Oct. 9.

Following this, he said, on Oct. 10 he had called Gordon

McGuire Says College Stories Were In Error

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire appeared before the Marin County Grand Jury last night and accused the Independent-Journal of inaccurate and misleading reports concerning the College of Marin's negotiations for land acquisition.

The grand jurors, headed by Acting Foreman Harry Heifetz, then directed Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety to subpoena the city editor of the Independent-Journal to appear before the grand jury at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 1, a week from today.

'PRIVATE SESSION'

McGuire told the grand jurors that the college trustees followed his opinion "that legally they may communicate in private with their legal counsel and may confer in private session on matters of prospective or pending litigation."

McGuire charged that the Independent-Journal was inaccurate in reporting three separate land transactions entered into by the college trustees.

The newspaper alleged that in the three cases, the lands had been acquired without prior public notice of the pending acquisitions.

AN ERROR

In one of the transactions, the Independent-Journal was in error. Purchase of acreage from Mosk Realty Co. had been discussed in public since February. At that time, a condemnation suit was filed by the school district.

The other land negotiations involved property at 143 Kent Avenue and about two and one-half acres behind Kent Avenue owned by Kent Woodlands properties, Inc.

Terra Linda Wins Battle Of The Bark

Planners Reject Humane Society Plan For Shelter

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

The bark of dogs shall not ring in Terra Linda tonight—nor any other night, it was decided by the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Terra Linda residents, at least 50 strong and backed by nine speakers (with applause), 13 letters and a petition bearing 1,473 signatures, told the commission in no uncertain terms that they did not want a humane shelter (dog pound) in their back yard.

BRIEF APPEAL

Crawford's brief appeal, in which he attempted to assure the commission and the opposition that the installation would be attractive, noiseless and odorless, fell on deaf ears.

The Terra Linda delegation, headed by Robert Brownne, Terra Linda Community Services District director of 374 Orange Blossom Lane, offered a separate speaker, each purportedly an expert, on each of its objections.

The noise problem was covered by Glen Dyslin, a civil engineer of 348 Orange Blossom Lane, who said: "I don't think the noise problem can be solved." (Applause.)

'THE HORRORS'

Lee Mendelson, a public affairs specialist of 321 Orange Blossom Lane, spoke on sight and awareness: "As a child I remember hearing of the horrors that go on inside a dog pound. Do you think we should have this daily reminder in view of our children?" (Applause.)

Mel Warenback, also a community district director of 595 Las Collindas, said of traffic: "Our own children and pets will be placed in jeopardy." (Applause.)

'NO OTHER'

The problem of zoning was covered by Mrs. Morris Bode, general secretary and manager of the services district of 421 Hickory Lane: "No other humane society in the bay area is located in a residential district." (Applause.)

Summarizing was R. W. Teague, builder of 390 Orange Blossom Lane: "This is not the place for this type of operation." (Applause.)

For good measure, James Roddy, representing Terra Linda Gardens, and Rev. E. A. Bartz, speaking for the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, both opposed on general grounds.

Brownne concluded, appealing to the commission: "Your first consideration must be to-

'PEACE PLEA'

Gromyko Calls For JFK-Nikita Parley

MOSCOW (UPI)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made a strong plea today for negotiations between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President John F Kennedy, it was learned.

"Let Kennedy and Khrushchev preside not over a world catastrophe but over negotiations for an improvement in Soviet - American relations," Gromyko told the day's 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress, reliable sources said.

Gromyko said the Soviet Union would welcome "any action from the United States in this direction.

According to persons inside the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses, Gromyko said Kennedy is a Democrat as was the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Gromyko pleaded for a return to what he called "the tested policies of the Roosevelt era, which would be a benefit to both people."

Gromyko devoted a large part of his 40-minute speech to stressing the need for negotiations to improve Soviet-American relations. He followed Khrushchev's lead by offering to negotiate an East-West treaty with all Germany.

But Gromyko said that if the West is not willing to negotiate such a treaty, Moscow will sign a peace pact with East Germany alone.

Gromyko also followed Khrushchev's lead in failing to mention a deadline for a separate treaty. Earlier this year Khrushchev set an end-of-the-year deadline, but dropped it in his first speech to the congress last week.

U.S. Forces Call Full Alert In West Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — The U.S. Army put its 6,500-man Berlin garrison on a full alert for more than five hours today in the face of renewed Communist interference with American traffic across the city border.

During the alert, the Army sent three jeeploads of armed soldiers 400 yards into East Berlin as escort for an American-licensed automobile carrying two Army officers dressed in civilian clothing. It was a dramatic reiteration of U.S. rights to travel anywhere in the city.

(In Washington, the State Department announced that the United States had protested to the Soviet Union against East German attempts to force U.S. officials to show identification when entering East Berlin.)

The alert was called at 10:10 a.m. and was lifted at 3:35 p.m. It was called before the American automobile was escorted through the Communist checkpoint at the Friedrichstrasse crossing after having been turned back once by East Berlin police.

Novato Hiring Of 'Outsiders' Is Criticized

Hiring of Novato's street maintenance foreman and two policemen from outside the city today drew protest from Novato City Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva.

"In a city of this size, I'm sure there are plenty of qualified men to handle these jobs," Silva said.

A street maintenance foreman, two street maintenance men, two policemen and clerk were hired last Friday by city administrator J. Julien Baget. The street maintenance foreman and one of the patrolmen live in Santa Rosa; the other patrolman lives in Petaluma. The two street maintenance men and clerk live in Novato.

"The council was not consulted in this at all," Silva declared

He said that by mutual agreement, the council members and administrator usually talk over who is to be hired.

"I could have saved Baget many hours of interviews this time," Silva added.

Other council members were quick to back Silva's stand on hiring locally, but declined to get into the fray.

"Whenever possible we should employ people in this city," Councilman John Angeloni said. "I prefer hiring an individual that lives in Novato."

"I've been fighting this since I've been on the council," said Councilman Everett Pozzi. "John (Baget) said that the city cannot get local people to apply for the jobs."

Baget said job specifications were approved by the council and that the positions were advertised. He said he is authorized to do the hiring on levels below department heads.

For street foreman, the city received 17 applications, of

'Feasible' Waterfront Park Voted In Sausalito

A park, "to the extent feasible," was approved by a 3-2 vote of the Sausalito City Council last night for the city's central waterfront area.

The area comprises that land owned by the city, not under lease, between the Bank of America, Spinnaker Restaurant, ferry boat Berkeley and Vina Del Mar Plaza.

Voting "no" were councilmen George Keeney and Howard Sievers.

Action came after two and one-half hours of discussion at Central School after the council had met at the city hall and adjourned to the school to provide space for about 200 persons who attended.

The council voted unanimously that alternate parking arrangements for parking plans be given to the planning commission to study.

A third motion, turned down 3-2, with Councilmen Keeney, Sievers and Michael Harris voting "no," was that "consideration be given to location of some civic buildings in central Sausalito and a committee be appointed to study this plan."

All three motions were made by Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr.

A motion by Harris that a study be undertaken for location of civic buildings in the waterfront area was approved unanimously.

The meeting was a continued hearing on the Central Waterfront Plan, made originally by a citizens committee, which includes circulation, civic buildings, a park and parking.

The planning commission had made three suggestions: (1.) a park and plaza as a major attraction in the central district; (2.) incorporating the maximum amount of parking within the central district close to the central plaza, and (3.) civic buildings to be located in the central waterfront area.

The council adjourned at 11 p.m. to next Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the city hall to hear an appeal from a planning commission denial of a use permit from Marian Frick to build a hotel on Bulkley Avenue.

Russell Papenhausen, Chamber of Commerce president, said the chamber favored the majority plan (more parking than park) because it is self-supporting.

Carl Gabrielson said, as a

New Rioting Breaks Out In Dominican

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R. (UPI) — New anti-government rioting was reported today in Santiago, second city of the Dominican Republic.

Brief reports received here said several persons were injured and some arrests made.

Business houses in Santiago closed Monday in a three-day "observance" of the deaths in Ciudad Trujillo after last Friday night's street battles. The enforced "holiday" was not observed locally.

The new outbreak followed the government's action in refusing permission to Juan I. Kjimenez, an exiled leader, to return here after 26 years of exile.

Humane Society Asserts Refusal Is 'Not Defeat'

Last night's refusal of the San Rafael Planning Commission to grant the Marin County Humane Society permission to build an animal shelter and classrooms at Terra Linda was "not a defeat," society officials declared today.

Frederic D. Kerr, president of the society, said search would continue for a "suitable location with a park-like atmosphere."

"We will not build on mud flats," said Mel L. Morse, director-manager of the society. "We deal with family pets. They deserve something adequate. Their owners should not have to wade through an undesirable area when they come to claim them.

"We want a shelter that will be copied by the rest of the United States."

"We hope to be able to continue our services to the county and its 10 cities," Kerr said. "We will carry on as long as we can."

Morse said he was "critical" of the oversight in county planning in that there is no adequate facility for humane work. "This is a community problem," he said.

"I admire the ability of those people in Terra Linda to express themselves," Morse said. He said the society had gained a host of friends and supporters from Terra Linda.

"We intend to call on them for help," he promised.

Living Costs Hit New High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for new fall lines of clothing pushed living costs to a record high in September.

The Labor Department reported today that its index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between August and September to 128.3 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

Clothing prices, rising more than seasonally, were up 1.1 per cent from the late-summer bargains of August.

Robert J. Myers, deputy commissioner of labor statistics, said another slight rise is expected in October. But he emphasized that the price level has remained unusually stable and is expected to continue to register little change from month to month.

Soviets Set Off Another, Smaller Bomb

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Foreign observers — including Russians—were invited to watch the U.S. test in New Mexico next December.

Sweden's Uppsala Seismological Institution said the new Soviet blast was a relatively small one. An institution spokesman said it had a force of a "few megatons" of TNT—about one tenth the size of Monday's superbomb blast.

Western observers believed the size of the latest nuclear device indicated Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promised 50-megaton bomb blast was still to come despite widespread demands that Russia end its heavy testing series.

The White House announced that the new American nuclear test would be conducted 1,200 feet underground in a salt formation in Carlsbad, New Mexico. Its aim will be to develop peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Rain Storm Headed Toward California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A rain storm appears to be headed toward Northern California.

The forecaster said the storm is expected to reach the state tomorrow, bringing rain as far south as Monterey and Sacramento, and snow in the mountains south to around Lake Tahoe.

Troop Train, Truck Collide–Two Dead

MILES CITY, Mont. (UPI)—A troop train carrying 385 Wisconsin and Minnesota National Guardsmen to Ft. Lewis, Wash. for Berlin crisis duty collided at dawn with a loaded gravel truck, killing the driver, at least one trainman and presumably two others.

The body of one trainman was removed from the wreckage shortly after 10 a.m. Two other employees were trapped in the tangle and presumed dead.

EXPLOSION WRECKS TEAMSTERS HQ

An explosion police said was caused by dynamite tore apart the Teamsters Union Local 290 in North Miami, Fla., last night. The building was unoccupied when the blast went off and there were no injuries. Police said they knew of no reason the union hall should have been dynamited. (AP Wirephoto)

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Titan Shot Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An intercontinental range Titan has scored its ninth successful test flight — and the launching may have been a critical test for the missile-detection capability of the new Midas IV spy satellite.

The Titan roared aloft on a 6,100-mile flight last night as Midas IV whipped over Cape Canaveral at an altitude of 2,100 miles.

The launching was timed to determine if infrared sensing devices in the satellite could pick up the exhaust trail of the Titan and relay the information to a ground station. Whether it did was not disclosed.

Man Orbit Predicted

BRYAN, Tex. (AP)—A Texas congressman says the United States will have a man in orbit by December and men on the moon by 1969.

Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.) said yesterday in a speech that the time table calls for the United States to send three men to the moon in a capsule by 1969.

Fallout Warning

TOKYO (AP) — Government scientists today warned all Japanese to protect themselves against expected heavy radioactive fallout from the Soviet Union's giant nuclear tests.

The fallout, dubbed "ashes of death" by the Japanese press, is expected to arrive over Japan Friday or Saturday on winds from the arctic test range where the 30-to-59-megaton hydrogen bomb was exploded Monday.

Rayburn Unchanged

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Doctors at Baylor Hospital said yesterday that House Speaker Sam Rayburn has been fed through a stomach tube "nearly continuously for the past week."

A medical bulletin said the condition of the 79-year-old Texas Democrat, incurably ill with cancer, was unchanged and still serious.

Tshombe Agrees

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has formally accepted ratification of the Katanga-U.N. cease-fire and agreed to hand over about 190 Irish and Scandinavian prisoners this afternoon, the U.N. Command announced.

U.N. envoy Mahmoud Khiar at the same time will return to Katangan control the Elisabethville post office and radio station taken by U.N. troops during the week of fighting last month; also hand over 210 Katangan prisoners captured in the fighting.

Casals To Play In D.C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pablo Casals, one of the world's great musicians but for years only a legend in the United States, will break an 11-year-old vow by playing in the White House next month.

The portly, 84-year-old cellist vowed he would never play in the capital of any country that recognizes the Franco regime in his native Spain.

But the aging virtuoso accepted President John F. Kennedy's invitation to play Nov. 13 after a state dinner for Gov. Luis Munoz-Marin of Puerto Rico.

Stevenson Says No Nation Can Win A Quick Peace In Cold Or Hot War

By CHAPIN A. DAY

No nation can "win a quick peace in either the cold war or a hot war," Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations declared in San Francisco last night, and so "since we don't wish to die together, we must manage to live together."

Speaking before 3,000 persons in the Masonic Temple on the 16th anniversary of the United Nations, Stevenson predicted the international organization would survive current crises with the help of the people of the United States and other nations.

But he warned that Americans must get over the "pleasant illusion of omnipotence" without succumbing to the dispair of impotence.

Stevenson stressed that although "we may have had our fill of negotiations, there is a lot more to come."

The Soviet Union knows, he declared, that it can inflict a world war so destructive that "survival is in doubt." So can the United States.

But Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "has been canny" in his calculation of the possible results of his actions. "Pray God it will remain that way," the ambassador added.

He told the gathering, sponsored by the San Francisco Chapter of the United Nations, and including many Marinites, that the United Nations has not come under Communist control and that it is not likely to.

The new nations admitted to the U.N. "weren't born yesterday," Stevenson said. "They have recognized their need for the organization and are giving no support to the Soviet's troika plan.

Some people, he went on, are disappointed in the achievements of the U.N. and fear it will be turned against us. "I share their frustration, but not their fear . . . as long as we continue active leadership and remain faithful to our purposes."

"We need to know our enemy so we can frustrate his attack and learn how to make him our friend. As never before in history we need to know ourselves," he said. "The exertions we face can only be justified by great goals . . . If ours are not enough, let us get greater ones."

1942 High School Reunion Is Planned

Plans are being made for a reunion next June 23 of the San Rafael High School classes of January and June, 1942, William Nave and Joe Cowan, of 5800 Redwood Highway, Ignacio, announced today.

Nave and Cowan asked for addresses of 1942 classmates who no longer live in Marin or the Bay Area so they may be told of the reunion.

Mauritania, Mongolia Votes Near

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Prospects brightened today for a break in the Security Council deadlock barring Mauritania and Outer Mongolia from membership in the United Nations. Nationalist China appeared to have abandoned its intention to veto the Mongolians.

A Nationalist spokesman said his delegation did not not expect to get voting instructions until just before the council meeting this afternoon to conside the two membership applications. But reports from Taipei said Chian Kai-shek's government had reluctantly concluded it would have to change its hitherto rigid position and the Nationalist Parliament had given its tacit assent.

BOTH SIDES

A double-barreled resolution covering both candidates was being considered to get around a dispute between the Soviet Union and the West over which application should get priority.

The Soviets have been insisting that Outer Mongolia be considered first. Then, if Mongolia was blocked by a Nationalist veto or failed to get the required seven approving votes, the Russians could retaliate by vetoing Mauritania.

The Soviet Union's Valerian Zorin sought Latin American support for his proposal that an interim secretary-general should have seven chief aides —from the United States, the USSR, Africa, Latin America, Eastern Europe, Western Europe and Asia.

Kennedy Administration 'Confusing' Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the Kennedy administration is "confusing me and all my friends."

In one of his sharpest attacks on the Democratic administration, Eisenhower said last night federal fiscal policies are "shrinking dollars." He called the Peace Corps a "juvenile experiment" and suggested Peace Corps members might be sent to the moon.

The former Republican president appeared at a campaign rally in support of State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, Republican candidate for mayor of New York City. He said Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who is running for re-election, has given the city a diet of "indecision and vacillation."

But he levelled most of his criticism at Washington Democrats.

The confusion among New York Democrats is a spring zephyr, Eisenhower said, when compared with the tornado of confusion in Washington.

He said he is confused at what the Kennedy administration is getting at with its fiscal policy. "One day the nation is told the federal budget is balanced, and the next that it will produce a $6.7-billion deficit," he said.

"I believe this nation is in a time of prosperity — if we can't pay our debts, what's going to happen?" he asked.

Citing the experience of other nations with inflation, Eisenhower suggested U.S. currency might come to be known as "dollarettes, there'd be so many more of them."

Turning to the Peace Corps —a Kennedy administration project—the former president said: "If you want to send a man to the moon, send a Peace Corps member up there. It is an underdeveloped country."

8 Students Injured In Marin Bus Crash

Eight University of California students from Davis, three with homes in Marin, were injured yesterday afternoon when a zoological field trip bus struck a bridge abutment on the Novato-Hicks Valley road a mile west of Sutro Avenue.

Marin residents injured were:

Natalie Kerr, 18, of 28 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, kept in Novato Hospital for treatment of shock.

Marilyn D. Nault, 19, of 6 Willow Way, San Anselmo, also under treatment for shock.

Treated at the same hospital for minor cuts and bruises and released were the driver, Jerrold Lynn Wilson, 21, of Davis; Francie G. Jacobs, 18, of San Francisco; Sally M. Jackson, 18, of Napa; Carol L. Ingold, 19, of Fontana, and Prof. Milton A. Miller of Davis, who was in charge of the party.

The bus was westbound, heading for Dillon Beach. It was the lead bus in a convoy of six. The five others narrowly missed hitting it after the crash.

Wilson told California Highway Patrolman Duncan Snell that the front wheel of the 36-passenger vehicle left the pavement on a curve before the bridge and that he was unable to get it back on the pavement, possibly due to mechanical failure.

The right side of the bus was torn off by the abutment and six feet of concrete railing on the bridge was knocked down. After striking the abutment the bus ran for another 200 feet and stopped upright.

New Hope For Stroke Victim

NEW YORK, (UPI) — Highly pressurized oxygen is a new hope for the human brain which is being threatened by a stroke by an accidental injury or by the absolute necessity for thorough-going surgery.

New scientific experimentation shows it gets quickly through a brain under extremely difficult circumstances. Oxygen which is under no more than atmospheric pressure doesn't—under the same circumstances.

The experimenters headed by Dr. George Smith of the University of Glasgow created almost impossible circumstances by putting clamps on the main arteries leading from the hearts of brains of animals.

These anesthetized animals were connected to machines which recorded their brain wave patterns. Five animals were breathing just ordinary air which contains oxygen pressurized only by the atmosphere.

When their arteries were clamped, their brain wave patterns began fading away within 15 seconds, and within one minute the characteristic rhythm was lost.

Five other animals were breathing pure oxygen pressurized at twice atmospheric pressure. The clamps were kept on their arteries for 10 to 30 minutes. Yet the brain wave patterns were not disturbed.

These circumstances were much more drastic than those which attend the less-than-fatal "stroke" or brain injury in human beings. Then there is a regional blockage in blood circulation through the brain.

Oxygen carrying blood doesn't get through. If another circulatory route is not established at once around the block, the oxygen-deprived cells die and the consequences is a permanent paralysis.

QUESTION PUTS SCARE IN BOMB HOAXER

Eleanor Doreen Brown of 1215 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, said she answered her telephone about 4:15 p.m. to hear a muffled voice said: "This is R. C. Smith. There's a bomb in your house."

"What do you want me to do about it?" Mrs. Brown asked.

Her caller, at a loss for words, hung up.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today, carving out its first advance of the week. Trading was moderate.

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points among key stocks outnumbered losers.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3.5 million shares compared with 3.43 million yesterday.

Tiburon Unit Tonight

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council will meet today at 8 p.m. in the Belvedere Community Hall to discuss recent master plan zoning activities, according to President Dick De Berry.

HOSPITAL

R. Cumming, chairman of the Bureau of Hospitals of the state Department of Public Health.

"I told him, 'we know you can blow the whistle on us,'" said Fusselman. He said he hoped Mitchell's suggested method would be given a chance.

He said he told Cumming that state and county engineers should "get together and set up the minimum necessary to brace the (hospital) walls so they won't collapse," after which the county would do what was deemed necessary to recover the fund allocation.

"We would be prepared by July to call for bids," he said.

Fusselman then read a letter from Cumming, dated Oct. 20, recalling structural deficiencies dating back to 1957 and subject to repeated warnings.

The letter said that it was felt enough time has been given for a solution and that further delay would constitute an injustice and "a public hazard." It asked that within 15 days notice be given by Marin County of plans to correct the conditions or remove patients. The program might include temporary strengthening, said the letter.

Still nobody fully realized the extent of the trouble. Supervisor J. Walter Blair suggested that if the state required removal of some of the inmates, that would create a shortage which would help Marsh get construction help from the Federal Housing Administration.

"We've got to get the people out or we'll all be liable. Maybe we are now," said Fusselman.

Finally, Mitchell pointed out that "not only will they not give certification — they won't give even a license renewal."

"Our license expires Dec. 31," said Miss Presley.

"If the license is lifted, all our clients would be pulled out," said Mitchell.

"You'd close it (the hospital) down."

Supervisor George Ludy expressed disbelief in any plan by Marsh, saying, "He can't do it, and no private individual can."

Bruce asked for temporary authorization to hold up a call for bids, due to be made by the purchasing office yesterday, for seven additional beds for the hospital. Fusselman gave Bruce verbal authorization to wait a week.

which 13 were from the Novato area, he reported. For the street maintenance men, 48 applications were received, with 33 of these coming from the Novato area. For the police officers, 82 applications were received, of which 10 were from the Novato area. The clerk was hired without advertising the job.

Silva said the hiring was "quite legal" because Baget had the right to hire and fire anyone below department heads. He said he would bring the matter up at the Nov. 14 council meeting because he will be absent from a special meeting next Tuesday.

OBITUARIES

E. B. Howard, Tam Valley, Dies At 78

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for E. Blake Howard, who died at his Tamalpais Valley home yesterday after an illness of about five years.

Howard, 78, had been a warehouseman for Kortick Manufacturing Co., San Francisco hardware manufacturers. He retired in 1948. He had lived in Marin County 36 years, making his home at 515 Pineo Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

A native of Lyn, Ontario, Howard was a veteran of the Boer War. He was a member of the Methodist Community Church of Tamalpais Valley.

Howard is survived by his wife, Pearl L. Howard; three sons, E. Burt Howard of Greenbrae, Martin A. Howard of San Anselmo, and Clifford F. Howard of San Rafael; a sister, Mrs. Melvina Mitchell of Mill Valley, and two grandchildren.

Services will be at 10 a.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

The family requests tributes be contributions to the Methodist Community Church of Tamalpais Valley.

RICHARD RYALL

Richard J. Ryall, who spent 24 years as a boilermaker at Mare Island Naval Shipyard and then became a San Francisco high school teacher, died in a Santa Cruz hospital after a brief illness.

He was the father of Edward T. Ryall of Belveron Gardens.

Ryall, 77, who retired from the San Francisco school system in 1951, served as manual arts instructor and baseball coach at Francisco Junior High School, Balboa High School and Lincoln High School.

Besides his son in Belveron Gardens, he is survived by two other sons, Richard E. Ryall of South San Francisco and Raymond J. Ryall of San Jose; two sisters, Mrs. Marie Casarino of Vallejo and Mrs. Howard Paulson of Coos Bay, Ore., and nine grandchildren.

A Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Friday in St. Anne's Church, San Francisco, with interment in St. Vincent's Cemetery in Vallejo. The Rosary will be recited tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Halloran Funeral Home chapel, San Francisco.

MRS HOWELL

A rosary was recited yesterday for Mrs. R. Margaret Howell, 84, of Mill Valley, who died Monday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services and interment will be at Rockford, Ill., where Mrs. Howell had lived for many years. She came to Mill Valley 15 months ago to live with her daughter, Marion H. Smith, at 214 Meda Lane.

Mrs. Howell was born in Illinois on a farm near Rockford. She was the widow of Dr. William Sullivan Howell.

Active in club work, she had been a member of the Rockford Womens' Club, Mendelsohn Club, Art Assn., Rockford College Alumni, Rockford Writers Guild, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Catholic Womens' League.

She also contributed to promoting the Winnebago Consolidated School and organized the first Parent-Teacher Assn. in Rockford. She was president of the local reading circle.

Mrs. Howell is survived by her daughter; two sons, John S. Howell of Rockford and William R. Howell of Madison, Wis., and 12 grandchildren.

JOHN A. SCOTT

Funeral services for John A. Scott, former Marin County deputy sheriff were held yesterday at the Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.

Scott, 87, died Sunday in a Martinez hospital after long illness.

He was the father of John R. Scott of Novato.

A native of England, Scott came to the United States as a child. His family settled in Pennsylvania but in 1906 Scott came to California.

Scott retired from business as a men's tailor in 1940 and established his home in Bolinas. He was deputy sheriff there from 1942 to 1955.

He left Bolinas due to ill health in 1955 and for the past six years resided with his daughter, Mrs. Marion Casey of Bethel Island, Contra Costa County.

He is survived by his son and two daughters, Mrs. Casey and Mrs. Elmira Clark of San Francisco.

HATTIE PROBEN

Mrs. Hattie Douglas Proben, 76-year-old widow of Marin County tractor salesman Archie A. Proben, died yesterday in a local convalescent hospital after long illness.

A Marin resident for 27 years, she made her home at 108 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley. She had come to California 76 years ago from her native Texas.

She is survived by one brother, T. V. Tarver of Napa County.

Funeral services will be conducted at Halsted and Co. Mortuary, San Francisco, tomorrow at 11 a.m. Interment at Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno, will follow.

ward human values." (Applause.)

The commission voted 7-0 to refuse the application, without discussion.

Said Crawford: "I think the whole problem hinged on the connotation of the phrase 'dog pound.' We should have called it the John Mcginnis Humane Sciences Retreat. We would have been better off."

PARK

citizen, "You have just heard the biggest bunch of double talk that has been put before you citizens in a long time." Representing the Citizens Council, he said that "we must have adequate parking but also want open waterfront area."

Speaking for more parking than park were William Remak, Fred Perry, Jack Perry, and William McDonald. Speaking for more park than parking were Paul Micou, Wyman Hicks, Byron Mayo, Robert La Fontaine and Raymond Gurgis.

Ehrlich read letters favoring more park than parking from the Sausalito Nursery School, Sausalito Citizens Committee, Denise Fleig, and Neil Davis, and one letter with the opposite view from Fred and Mary Turner.

Still Too Early To Forecast Health Hazard From Fallout

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public health authorities are geared to detect the first fallout in North America from the Soviet Union's massive nuclear explosion of Monday.

But they declared it is too early to forecast if it will create any significant health hazard either in the following few weeks or next spring.

A Weather Bureau scientist said it was possible the early fallout from Monday's test may even pass north of the continental United States in its first pass around the earth. It likely will extend over the entire nation in its second time around about 10 days later, he added.

There is a possibility, health officials said, that within the next month levels of radioactive iodine from the bomb debris might equal or exceed levels produced by the 21 previously announced tests in the current Soviet series.

It isn't known yet whether this cumulative total of fallout would constitute any significant hazard, said Dr. James Terrill of the Health Service.

Radioactive iodine is considered a threat because if enough of it got into a person's system, it could cause thyroid cancer.

Terrill said that most of the radioactive strontium—a potential cause of bone cancer—loosed by the bomb will be delayed in falling until next spring. The strontium from the big blast will fall with the strontium remaining in the stratosphere from other tests in the series.

It remains to be seen whether the strontium from all tests would constitute any widespread hazard, Terrill said.

"It should be borne in mind, however," he added, "that even the present or expected levels of both strontium and iodine are and will be producing some adverse health effects in small portions of large population groups throughout the world.

"However, these levels of health effects will probably be below the detectable range."

Terrill said standards had been worked out—differing for various kinds of radioactive materials—to guide officials in considering protective countermeasures.

For example, the maximum standard for radioactive iodine is a daily intake of 100 micromicrocuries per day over a year's time. The standard for strontium is 200. A micromicrocurie is a measurement of radioactivity.

Terrill said the Health Service just can't say how much fallout will come down quickly from Monday's heavy weight test, or how much will be delayed until next spring.

One reason, he said, is that the health service does not know how dirty the bomb was in terms of radioactive fallout.

Fires killed 11,350 Americans in 1960, the fourth consecutive year that fire losses in the country exceed one billion dollars.

Legislature May Take Up Defense Shelters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Support of a costly civil defense shelter program to protect every American citizen against nuclear fallout may be taken up at a special session of the next state legislature.

"There are some elements of immediacy in this legislation," Chairman Richard Richards of the State Senate Interim Committee on Local Government told a one-day civil defense hearing in San Francisco yesterday.

There will be another hearing, in Southern California, before the legislature meets in January.

Civil defense officials generally backed Gov. Edmund G. Brown's request for a special session, saying that urgent problems of financing, building codes and school laws need legislative consideration.

While state civil defense experts were unanimous in recommending that communities get going immediately on mass shelter construction, spokesmen for several peace organizations contended the whole idea was wrong and unworkable.

Henry Lohmann of San Francisco, executive secretary of the Friends Service Committee on Legislation, said more research should be done on ways to disarm and that civil defense could "goad an opponent into striking before we are prepared."

Both Lohmann and Roy C. Kepler, member of the Acts for Peace executive committee, declared civil defense is but an extension of the arms race and the United States needs "an alternative to war itself—not defense programs."

But speaker after speaker came out for vast shelter programs to protect everybody in event of thermonuclear attack.

Civil defense officials from Livermore advised construction in every community of dual purpose shelters underground to safeguard the entire population.

William H. Parness, Livermore city manager and civil defense director, said that unless shelters were designed to provide for such alternate uses as meeting places, recreation areas and school facilities, communities would not be able to get financial support locally.

Livermore's plan, which is under study across the nation, calls for seven compartmented shelter complexes dispersed through the city. A resident could reach cover minutes after an alert.

ABOUT TO BE A FATHER

2 Teen-Age Girls Injured As Auto Slams Into Tree

Two teen-age girls were slightly injured in an auto accident yesterday when the driver panicked and the car hit a tree.

The girls, both 16, are Jane Elizabeth Francis of 1425 Butterfield Road, and her passenger, Carolyn M. Ballachy of Butterfield Road, both Sleepy Hollow. They were treated for abrasions at Marin General Hospital.

Miss Francis turned left off Butterfield Road onto Sir Francis Drake Boulevard when she noticed a line of cars stopped at a signal, said San Anselmo police chief Raymond Buchignani.

Frightened of hitting the vehicles, she drove onto the curb, hitting the tree in an attempt to regain the street.

Hub Crossing Contract Is Awarded

San Anselmo last night awarded a $23,949.50 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael to widen and improve the congested Hub intersection.

Ghilotti underbid three other contractors, Lee Mac Paving Co., Brown-Ely Co., and E. A. Forde Co. Highest bid, by Forde, was $28,478. The city engineer's estimate of the cost was $27,000.

Work will start in 15 days, with completion set for 60 days.

Landscaping of three islands at the intersection may cost $2,500, City Administrator Douglas Flautt estimated.

The city council will contact landscape architect William L. Kapranos to see how much his services would cost.

The intersection project calls for widening to the north so that an extra lane can be provided on both Redhill Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

City officials hope traffic from San Rafael and Fairfax will not be held up. Traffic from Ross to Fairfax will face a stop sign.

Greenfield Avenue will be widened. Center Boulevard will be widened and paved between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bridge Street.

Mrs. Wolcott Again Asks For Job Back

Mrs. Catherine Wolcott, who lost her job with the City of San Anselmo last April, asked the city council again last night to reconsider re-instatement.

Her attorney, Harold F. Wolters from Grass Valley, said he believes the city Board of Review had the jurisdiction to look into the case and recommend that Mrs. Wolcott be reinstated retroactive to the date of her dismissal.

City Atty. John G. Buresh, two weeks ago, declared the Board of Review has no jurisdiction. After listening to Wolter's arguments last night Buresh recommended a council executive session to discuss the case. Mayor Carleton G. E. Little set the closed hearing tentatively for 8 p.m., Nov. 6.

The council has maintained that Mrs. Wolcott's job as steno-clerk was abolished in the interest of economy. The city demoted controller Anne Grant to a lesser position and brought in a new controller. City fathers pointed out that Mrs. Wolcott was doing completely satisfactory work, but because the job of controller was opened up at the top, this left an extra person on the staff. Therefore, the councilmen released Mrs. Wolcott.

Wolters said California has a leading case concerning a similar situation. "In that case a position was abolished allegedly for purposes of economy and a new job classification was created which included part of the duties of the abolished position.

"The court held that where any new job is created which includes all or any of the duties of the abolished position, then the Board of Review has an inherent jurisdiction to fully investigate the circumstances . . ."

In dismissing Mrs. Wolcott, the council was not in good faith accomplishing its stated purpose of economy, Wolters declared. "It is obvious that the single purpose was to remove Mrs. Grant from her position of city controller without regard for what might happen to any other employee."

Because Mrs. Grant had to be replaced, an attempt was made to "circumvent the civil service ordinance," Wolters charged.

Conservationists Meeting In City

Three-day conference of the California Conservation Council opens tomorrow afternoon in the California Academy of Sciences, San Francisco. The annual event will attract conservationists from Marin and all over California.

Mrs. Verna Dunshee of Ross, a vice president of the organization, has invited all interested conservationists to register, attend all sessions, lunches and the conference dinner tomorrow night.

On Saturday a special cruise of the bay is scheduled for which reservations must be made.

Chicken Puff

1⅓ cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons ground sage
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
½ cup margarine or shortening
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup PET Evaporated Milk
½ cup water
1 teaspoon baking powder

Roll chicken in a mixture of 1/3 cup flour, 2 teasp. salt, sage, pepper and paprika. Melt margarine in 11 x 7-in. baking dish in 400 oven (hot). Put chicken into dish, skin side down. Bake, uncovered, near center of oven for 30 min. Drain drippings from pan and save ¼ cup. Mix in qt. bowl the ¼ cup drippings, eggs, milk and water. Sift 1 cup flour, 1 teasp. salt and baking powder over milk mixture, a little at a time, and stir just until flour disappears. Pour batter over chicken. Bake 30 min. more, or until top is golden brown. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

'Touring' Officers Get Continuance

Two men, accused of impersonating police officers and leaving an unpaid $117 bill at Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera, showed up with San Francisco lawyer George Walker yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Robert E. Buntzler, 28, of Puebla Pue, Mexico, and Cullen W. Fugitt, 22, of Greenville, Miss., are accused of conspiracy to defraud the Edgewater Inn on Oct. 13. They asked for and received a continuance until Monday afternoon to enter their pleas to the charge.

The men are being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,625 bail each.

Board Acting Against Dissatisfaction

Some steps have been taken—and more are underway—toward eliminating widespread dissatisfaction among San Rafael school teachers which was disclosed by a survey last spring.

This was reported to the San Rafael Board of Education last night by a committee appointed in April to investigate the dissatisfaction. Its report was the first public disclosure regarding what was found in a staff satisfaction survey conducted in March and April by the personnel standards commission of the California Teachers' Assn.

The survey found considerable teacher dissatisfaction with working conditions, too many faculty and committee meetings, discipline, lack of communication, the in-service education program, the supervisory program, pupil promotion policy, and the salary schedule.

All have been discussed at faculty committee meetings in the various schools, and steps have been taken or planned for correction, reported the committee, composed of Frances Mason, president of the San Rafael Teachers Assn.; Raymond J. Simpson, acting superintendent, and board member Rex Silvernale.

Complaints about working conditions cited particularly inadequate upkeep of school buildings and inadequate teacher rest rooms and work rooms.

Some improvements to teacher rooms and rest rooms have been started.

Numerous committee meetings added to the teachers' load—and there was a feeling that they accomplished little, said the survey team.

The committee said "cooperative planning" has improved this.

In 11 of the district's 15 schools, teachers voiced concern over the discipline policy. Seven faculties reported support received from the school administration to be inadequate.

However, the committee in its report said "there is apparently no serious disagreement about the policy."

Having one principal for two schools added to discipline problems, said the survey. (This year, one principal was placed in charge of two elementary schools which are at least 10 minutes' drive apart.)

Although the San Rafael school system produces mimeographed material by the bushel, teachers complained of lack of communication with the central administration. "Various areas have been explored" to seek a way to correct this, said the committee report.

Ten faculties complained about the in-service education program.

In eight schools, teachers disagreed with the promotion policy, with some expressing concern that pupils are promoted when they cannot do the work of the next higher grade, said the survey.

On motion of board member Bella Aaron, the promotion policy was put on the agenda for the next board meeting.

Disagreement with the salary schedule is under study now by a committee. Teachers also objected to the superintendent's selecting courses teachers could take for professional advancement, a plan introduced by Frank L. Lucas, who was superintendent when the survey was made.

In general, said the survey, satisfactory staff morale exists in San Rafael schools. But "six schools have morale problems of varying degrees of intensity." The six schools were not identified.

Humane Shelter Subject Of Show

"Should the Marin County Humane Society move its shelter to Terra Linda?" will be topic of discussion from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow on the radio KTIM "Sounding Board," according to Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator of the program.

Guests will be Robert H. Browne and Mel Warenback, representing the Terra Linda Community Services District, and Frederic D. Kerr and Mel L. Morse, representing the Marin County Humane Society.

Questions are invited from listeners for tomorrow's broadcast only, as the Sunday broadcast at 12:30 p.m. is a tape-recorded rebroadcast of the Thursday program, Mrs. Oppenheimer said.

Pair Plead Innocent To Delinquency

Two San Francisco men, caught with a loaded rifle and four young children in their car in San Anselmo yesterday morning, admitted they violated the Fish and Game Code by having the loaded weapon in their car.

However, they pleaded innocent to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Rudy Louis Regaldo, 24, an unemployed longshoreman, and Morton Hillard Morrison, 26, service station attendant, were arrested about 2:30 a.m. yesterday in a parking lot off San Anselmo Avenue. The children, sleeping in the car, were aged 1, 2, 3, and 20 months. According to police, Regaldo claimed the three older children and said the youngest infant was Morrison's.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas set 9:30 a.m. Monday as the time for a trial of the two men on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of children.

School Library 'Poverty' Told In Mill Valley

If all the juvenile books from the Mill Valley Public Library were added to the libraries of the eight schools in the Mill Valley School District, there would not be enough to meet the commonly accepted standards for a community of this size.

District librarian Laurel Robinson told school board trustees this Monday night in commenting on the annual library report.

The report noted that the per capita library expenditure of the seven Mill Valley schools, excluding Edna Maguire, is $1.25, whereas the American Library Assn. recommends $4 to $6 per student.

Board chairman George M. Wood said, "This report reveals a poverty of library facilities which it is astonishing to find in a community which has such a high percentage of college graduates among its residents."

Report Shows Low Faculty Morale At San Rafael High

Morale on the San Rafael High School faculty last March was considered low by two-thirds of the teachers.

Only 37 per cent of them would recommend San Rafael High to prospective teachers. Seventy per cent believed many teachers had left "because they didn't like to work here."

The teachers lacked confidence in the board of education, superintendent and principal. Eighty-six per cent thought the district was paying salaries below what it could afford.

These are some of the disclosures in a teacher satisfaction survey at the high school which was made last March by a California Teachers Assn. committee, and has been kept under wraps ever since by a committee appointed by the board of education.

Last night, Joseph Albanese, insurance man and former board member, distributed copies of the report at the board of education's meeting and announced he was mailing other copies to prominent citizens.

Although 65 per cent of the 74 teachers who answered the survey questions thought inequities existed in the salary schedule, and 53 per cent thought "our board is more concerned about taxes than about the education program," the nadir was reached in the teachers' confidence in the district administration.

Of 21 questions on teacher-administration relationships, 19 showed up problems or potential problems by the teachers' association's yardstick.

To the question whether supervision in the school was constructive and conducive to improved teaching, 62 per cent replied in the negative. Fifty-three per cent thought their work was not fairly evaluated.

Seventy per cent said extra duties were not shared equitably by the staff. Only 50 per cent thought the district was operated efficiently. Forty-two per cent claimed the administration did not keep its promises to teachers.

"The number of items of this category listed as problems or potential problems demonstrates a deep apprehension of administration, particularly central office personnel, with the superintendent often being singled out," commented the CTA survey team.

(Frank L. Lucas was then superintendent. He has since resigned. The remainder of the administrative staff is unchanged.)

Seventy-five per cent of the reporting teachers found the high school faculty split into cliques. And 40 per cent said some students "are treated with deference because of their parents' influence and prestige."

Sixty-seven per cent said new teachers were not given appropriate special help. Sixty per cent said faculty meetings were inefficiently organized and conducted, with some claiming the meetings often deteriorated into gripe sessions. Forty-five per cent said the principal was often unavailable when needed.

(Ralph H. Phelps was principal of San Rafael High when the survey was taken. He has since resigned that post and been replaced by Alfred N. Thomson. Twenty-two of the teachers who were at San Rafael High last March are no longer there.)

Forty-two per cent of the high school teachers felt adequate educational standards were not being upheld. More than a third disagreed with the promotion policy.

"A general review of educational standards at San Rafael High School is desired by a significant number of this staff," said the report.

Half believed the school had not improved in the past few years. Thirty-two per cent found it a difficult place to teach.

Two-thirds found teacher restrooms and work rooms inadequate. Fifty-two per cent said there were too many classroom interruptions. Forty-five per cent complained of time wasted on non-essentials. Forty-seven per cent said they were burdened with clerical work, and 44 per cent complained (like their students?) of too much home work.

But, despite all these complaints, only 14 per cent of the teachers said they had unsatisfactory teaching assignments.

Similar surveys were done at each of the San Rafael elementary schools, but the reports on the individual schools have not been released except to the teachers in each school.

Roderick P. Martinelli, board president, said in response to an Independent-Journal query that only at Davidson did the report show such extensive dissatisfaction as at San Rafael High.

(Homer E. Hoyt was principal of Davidson School when the survey was taken. He has since left the district, being replaced as principal by Hanlon P. Tharp.)

Case Against Ex-Diplomat Goes To Jury

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The case against Irvin C. Scarbeck, former U.S. diplomat, accused of passing American secrets to Communist agents in Poland, went to a federal court jury today.

The panel of 11 men and 1 woman began deliberating at 11:33 a.m. (EDT).

Federal Judge Leonard P. Walsh warned the jurors in his instructions that Scarbeck, 41, was not being tried for having an intimate relationship with his Polish girl friend, Urszala Discher.

"That is not the charge in this case," the judge said in commenting on testimony concerning Scarbeck's affair with the 22-year-old girl.

The judge also told the jury that it was immaterial if Scarbeck acted to shield Miss Discher from harm by the Polish police.

Marin City Job Office To Open

A branch office of the California State Employment Service will be opened at the Marin City Medical Center Monday to serve employers and job seekers in southern Marin, Edwin W. Ayer, manager of the San Rafael office, announced today.

The office, to be open Mondays through Fridays from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m., will be staffed by personnel from the San Rafael office under direction of Mrs. Ann Gall.

It will handle job orders and job applications only. Marin unemployment insurance claims will still be handled only at the San Rafael office at 805 E Street, Ayer stressed.

Rotary Tiller Vanishes

San Anselmo Acts To Clean Its Books

San Anselmo City Council last night got a list of particulars on what is wrong with the city's bookkeeping system and asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to make recommendations to correct the flaws.

Suggestions for improvement came from John F. Joyce, representing the San Francisco firm of Lindquist, Von Husen and Joyce, hired to audit the city's books.

Among Joyce's suggestions:

1. Adopt a standard method of recording over-the-counter receipts. All receipts should come in through one channel, not through various departments.

BETTER CONTROL

2. Better control over taxes receivable is needed. At present, total taxes, collections, etc., cannot be reconciled with delinquent rolls.

3. When the city publishes the list of tax delinquencies, the law requires that the list include the amount of penalties. In the past, the list has included taxes only.

4. City accounts do not reflect all changes in appropriations voted by the council. Detail of expenditures cannot be compared with budgeted accounts. Last year, substantial appropriations could not be pin-pointed.

MONTHLY DEPOSITS

The city already has carried out one recommendation—making monthly deposits of income taxes deducted from employees' salaries.

Mayor Carleton G. E. Little wanted to know if San Anselmo's accounts are in worse shape than those of other cities.

"Basically, your accounting records are anything but sloppy," said Joyce.

NO CUTDOWN FOR TIBURON CHAMBER AREA

Officers and directors of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted unanimously to retain the present boundaries in the proposed by-law changes.

Previously the by-law committee had proposed that only downtown Tiburon and Belvedere be in the chamber area, excluding the Bel Aire Shopping Center and Tiburon Boulevard businesses.

The seven directors present voted 6-0 in favor of limiting the membership to the commercially employed only. Secretary Fred C. Hannahs abstained.

The by-law changes will come before the membership at the Nov. 14 meeting.

Blackout Over At Seminary

Classes were resumed this morning at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary at Strawberry Point while workmen continued to repair a faulty underground cable which caused a power failure Monday evening.

The failure knocked out lights and heating, and classes had a holiday yesterday. Power is expected to be restored this afternoon, said Dr. William A. Carleton, dean and vice president.

Normal telephone service, not available yesterday, was resumed today. Students ate last evening's meal and breakfast today by candlelight.

Hearing On Closing Of Kensington Road Set

A public hearing to get citizen reaction on the proposed closing of Kensington Road in San Anselmo will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 14 in San Anselmo City Hall.

City councilmen opened the hearing last night but decided to continue it until the next meeting to make sure that everyone who wanted to express himself has a chance to do so.

The San Anselmo School District wants the road and several pieces of private property to expand Wade Thomas School.

In other actions last night, the city council:

1. Referred back to the planning commission a request by Frank Orekar for a carport at 1 Roger Avenue. Orekar wants to put in a carport with less than the 15-foot front setback, with a ramp leading from the street to the carport.

2. Approved the payment of $3,560 to Inland Pacific for library expansion work. The city still retains $5,289.10, from which about $500 will be deducted as penalty for delay in completing the library job on the agreed date.

3. Approved a lot split for D. T. Thompson at 40 Ash Avenue.

4. Changed the street name of Circle Drive to Island Drive. The circular road near the San Rafael boundary was named Island Drive for part of the circle and Circle Drive for the rest. The change makes the entire road Island Drive.

5. Denied Marin Ski Club's request for use of council chambers for semi-monthly meetings.

6. Called for bids on three new Chevrolet police cars to be opened on Dec. 12. Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said he has had best results with Chevrolets.

7. Opened up a barrier that exists at the Essex Avenue exit to the Miracle Mile. Residents of Essex at present cannot turn left to go toward San Rafael. With the barrier lifted, they may cross Redhill, then turn left onto the Miracle Mile.

8. Hired Richard Burke as street department laborer to succeed Milo LeFever, who resigned. LeFever declared that low salary, lack of raises, and the fact that the city has unsafe and hazardous equipment were reasons for his taking a new job with Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District. LeFever complained he had worked 14 months as street sweeper but received the pay of a maintenance man.

Reed School Science, Math Fund Passed

Reed Union School District trustees last night approved $5,600, to be matched with the federal funds for instructional supplies in science, mathematics and foreign languages.

Total cost of the program is $11,200, with the government providing 50 per cent matching funds.

Science supplies to be purchased include acquariums, portable science laboratories, terrariums, planetariums, microscopes, barometers, and biological models. Mathematical equipment includes abacuses, geometric designs, slide rules. Equipment for the foreign language program includes records, record players, films and tapes. Projection equipment will be purchased for all three categories.

Trustees approved the staff salary procedures by the Teachers Assn., administrative staff and trustees "which assures researched, refined and administered staff salary proposals, Supt. Edward C. Pino said.

Trustees also approved professional staff valuation procedures outlined by Pino. "The procedures' primary objective is self improvement and professional competency of those evaluated," Pino said.

Trustees announced that the Del Mar School will open Monday, with Jack Usilton as teacher-principal. He is now teaching fourth grade at Bel Aire School. Pupils have attended classes at Reed and Bel Aire schools and the Tiburon Peninsula Club.

Novato School Board Votes To Buy Land

Novato Unified School District trustees last night voted 3 to 2 to start negotiations to purchase from Joseph Glicksburg a triangular piece of property adjoining the Rancho School.

Trustees William Kirk and Earl Marshall voted against the proposal.

"I cannot see spending school money for a piece of property and then turning it over to the city for a street," Marshall said in opposing the purchase. "You are giving the city an $80,000 street."

Marshall indicated that the cost of the land, closing costs, appraisers fees and street assessments would probably bring the figure closer to $100,000.

INDEFINITE

Although the city has not made any definite plan to extend Hill Avenue, trustees agreed that the street would eventually take part of the Rancho School site. The district would then need more land for the school. It is for this that Glicksburg's land is sought.

Glicksburg said the property of almost three acres had been divided into 12 lots. Although Glicksburg did not set a price, trustees Marshall and Kirk indicated that the price had been set around $6,000 per lot.

The trustees granted an indeterminate leave of absence to Stanley V. Onderdonk, vice principal of the high school. Onderdonk has been called to active duty with the Navy.

REPLACEMENT

Fielding Reese, counselor and mechanical drawing instructor, was given the duties performed by Onderdonk on a temporary basis. He was given a raise of $1,237 per year while on the job, and the title "assistant to the principal." He will be relieved of his counseling duties.

Mrs. Francis Foster, presently substituting for the district, was hired at a salary of $6,904. She will teach one class of English and one of social studies, plus taking over Reese's counseling chores.

The board approved purchase of a tractor with scraper and mower, not to cost more than $3,000. It also approved the purchase of four recorders for Rancho School, not to cost more than $250.

Planners In San Rafael Deny Zoning Requests

Two appeals to rezone, both having second public hearings, were turned down last night by the San Rafael Planning Commission.

R. D. Lang, requesting a rezoning of his lot at Greenfield Avenue and Miracle Mile from single family residential to general commercial, was not present and was represented by attorneys Bryan R. McCarthy and John G. Buresh. Both attorneys argued that a service station, which Lang wished to build on the property, was an ideal use for the land.

A petition bearing 36 signatures opposing the rezoning were received by the planners last week. A petition bearing five signatures, including that of Lang, supported the rezoning.

The commission voted 5-to-1 to deny, with Carl Brown voting "no" and Gene F. O'Conner absent for that part of the meeting.

A second rezoning appeal, sought by Ralph Patterson and nine other residents of the 300 block of Glen Park Avenue, would have changed the zoning of the 10 parcels from single family residential to high density multiple residential. A petition containing 105 signatures of nearby residents opposed the rezoning.

Patterson argued that they needed the increased density zoning in order to negotiate loans to improve their property. Commissioner Brown noted that home improvement loans were available and that the rezoning would permit the owners to construct apartments.

The vote to deny was 6-to-1, O'Conner having arrived during the hearing and Orlando Conti voting "no."

The commission unanimously approved an amendment to the zoning ordinance which will make it possible for persons other than the applicant to appeal an adverse decision by the commission. Up to now, only the applicant could object if the decision went against his appeal. It was the second public hearing for the proposed amendment.

By 6-to-1 vote, with Commissioner Elmer Welcher voting "no," the commission agreed that building coverage of a lot should be determined on the basis of the amount of land on which the owner pays taxes.

The question was raised by Robert Misrach, owner of 108,000 square feet of property on San Rafael Canal, who said the city would only allow him to compute his density and building coverage on that portion of land not under water, even though he pays taxes on the underwater portion as well.

By being allowed to utilize the total land to determine land coverage, owners of such land will be able to increase the number of allowed units to be built. City policy has, up to now, allowed a developer to compute his coverage only the useable portion of land.

In other action last night the planning commission:

1. Approved remodeling of a warehouse at Irwin Street and Lincoln Avenue for use as a restaurant and bar under the conditions that the owner, James McKee, provide ample parking, allow a passageway to the rear of the building and maintain a planted area on sides and front.

2. By a 6-to-1 vote, approved construction of an office building at 1414 Lincoln Avenue. Commissioner Conti voted "no" on the grounds that two pieces of property involved have only one common driveway with no easement provision in event of sale of part of the property.

3. Approved revised plans, rejected at the last meeting, of a 40-unit apartment on Fairfax Street near Canal Street.

4. Gave architectural approval and a use permit to Marin Sanitary Service for construction of an office and truck storage area at Front and Hoag Streets.

5. Approved a use permit, pending architectural approval of plans, for a remodeled home at 1458-62 Lincoln Avenue to be used as a real estate office by Reggie Wing.

Shotgun Robbery Hearing Set

Gerald George Schneider, 22-year-old San Rafael cook accused of holding up a Novato service station with a sawed-off shotgun Sunday night, faces a preliminary hearing tomorrow at 9:30 a.m.

Schneider appeared before Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday with Public Defender Peter Allen Smith and pleaded innocent to the robbery charge.

Schneider is suspected of robbing Kernan's Shell Service Station on South Novato Boulevard of $170. He was caught in San Rafael the same night from a description of a car seen near the service station robbery.

Schneider was held in Marin Jail in lieu of $5,250 bail.

Novato Police Chief Roy McLaren said Schneider admitted several burglaries in the county, including two in Novato and one in Corte Madera.

No Disciplinary Action By Board

No action was taken by Mill Valley School District trustees at last night's closed meeting at which time it considered a disciplinary matter in connection with a pupil, Supt. G. Robert McConnell said today.

He said the board will consult with its legal council to see if any action is required and, if action is necessary, the board will bring up the matter at its regular meeting Nov. 13.

Stinson Beach Flood Control Zone Established

A Stinson Beach flood control zone was formally established by vote of Marin County supervisors yesterday on motion of Supervisor J. Walter Blair.

The measure had been subject of previous hearings, with general approval but with an emergency situation in prospect because of unavoidable delay in obtaining money urgently needed for a drainage ditch.

Because of the approaching rainy season, the board on Oct. 3 voted to let Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham draw on a general floor control item in the budget to an amount not in excess of $1,500.

Brigham said yesterday he is ready to do sufficient work to safeguard Stinson Beach against trouble during the approaching rains, after which the district can pick up its problems.

Kent O. Seymour Named Chairman Of Blair Group

Kent O. Seymour of Mill Valley was named today as chairman of a committee to oppose the recall of J. Walter Blair, supervisor of Marin's Third Supervisorial District, in an election Dec. 5.

Seymour said his intent is to "bring all of the issues to the people of this district."

Those named with Seymour were:

Bolinas—A. C. Pfefferkorn.

Stinson Beach — Thomas R. Tawns, OB. Cavanaugh.

Mill Valley — Frederick A. Penn.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

2:26 p.m., San Anselmo — False alarm at San Anselmo and Oakland Avenues.

3:27 p.m., Tiburon—Grass fire, cause unknown, in lot behind 591 Virginia Drive, Little Reed Heights.

6:25 p.m., San Rafael—Mrs. H. Boes of 1 La Vista Way locks self out of bathroom.

Tam Valley Fire Unit

Tamalpais Valley Fire Protection District commissioners heard a report last night that new doors have been installed on the firehouse and a new furnace within the firehouse. Cost of the doors was $400, and of the furnace, $350.

County Exempts Power Lines

A resolution exempting public utility transmission lines from county control, since they are subject to state Public Utilities Commission jurisdiction, was approved by Marin County supervisors yesterday in keeping with planning commission recommendation.

The supervisors also:

1. Ordered a letter sent to Floyd V. Beaver Jr. of 314 Ross Drive, Tamalpais Valley, saying that county counsel has ruled that the county can't remove obstructions from Coyote Creek but that the individual has legal rights through the courts.

2. Passed resolutions to start the Bel Marin Keys Assessment District, for which two and one-half million dollars worth of bonds are to be floated a year hence with owner financing meanwhile.

3. Continued to Oct. 31 a much-opposed Planning Commission proposal to reclassify all lands now remaining in private ownership in Marin City. Property owners felt the move "too severe."

Unification Vote Push Is Planned

Plans for a house-to-house canvass to get out voters for the unification election of Novato Unified School District and San Jose Elementary School District on Nov. 21 will be discussed at a public meeting of the Novato Committee for Better Education at 8 p.m. today at Hill School.

"Public apathy is the biggest element we have to combat in this election," said Robert Carrow, committee chairman.

'Nutcracker' Ballet Set Dec. 16, 17

Tschaikovsky's "Nutcracker" ballet, directed by Leona Norman and sponsored by the Bay Area Ballet Assn., will be presented for the third consecutive year in San Rafael High School auditorium at 2:30 p. m. on Dec. 16 and 17.

Starring roles will be danced by guests from the Pacific Ballet and pupils of the Leona Norman School of Ballet in San Rafael.

Mill Valley Couple At Marines' Theater

Mr. and Mrs. William Witt of Mill Valley are currently appearing in John Arden's "Sergeant Musgraves Dance" with the Actors' Workshop at Marines' Memorial Theater, Sutter and Mason Streets, San Francisco. The anti-war drama is at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturdays and runs through Nov. 11.

Witt, who plays the mayor, is drama teacher at Lincoln High School, San Francisco. He directed the Tiburon chapter of the Marin Junior Theater this summer. His wife, Bunny, plays the feminine lead, Annie. They live at 414 Throckmorton Avenue.

Travelogue Planned By Mineral Society

Stillman Clark of San Francisco will present a travelogue on the India-Burma theater of operations taken during World War II at the meeting of the Marin Mineral Society at 8 p.m. Thursday in Room 40, College of Marin.

The business meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Ambrose Canziani, president, said the public is invited.

YOUR VOICE TRAVELS 67 MILES FROM SAN RAFAEL TO SAN JOSE

It's a long distance, but this phone call costs 15% less than Long Distance rates

HERE'S WHY: Although your call from San Rafael to San Jose travels as far as many Long Distance calls, you pay less than Long Distance rates. This call, like most calls to other communities in the Bay Area, is measured in message units. The number of message units depends on how far you call and how long you talk. The message units are combined on your bill instead of each call being itemized. This costs less for bookkeeping, so you pay less for these calls.

If you ever need these calls itemized, for business or any other reason, place them through the Operator as station-to-station calls. The charge will be billed separately at regular long distance rates, without the 15% saving.

Post Office Yule Work Is Open

Applications for Christmas work will be accepted by the San Rafael Post Office from Monday until the close of business Nov. 10 or until Postmaster Warren H. Williams is satisfied that sufficient applications are on file.

Applicants must live within 10 miles of the Post Office and must be at least 18 years old.

A limited number of women will be hired and veterans with a ten or five per cent preference will be given first consideration.

Theater Plans Coward Comedy

Noel Coward's latest comedy, "Nude with Violin," is being rehearsed by Terra Linda Little Theater for production in the San Rafael High School auditorium Nov. 10 and 11.

Harry Zwagerman plays the lead role of Sebastian, valet to a painter who dies, causing a gathering of his stuffy English family to hear the reading of the will.

Hortense Shirley plays the painter's widow.

Richard L. Shirley, director, of 570 Pinewood Drive Marinwood, said anyone else interested in joining rehearsals may notify him.

Drive-In Lease Is Announced

Kenneth Shaffer of 21 Kendrick Drive, San Anselmo, announced today that he has leased the K C Drive-In Restaurant, 2058 Fourth Street, San Rafael, from the operators and owners, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carolyn, who now operate a restaurant near Lake Tahoe.

Shaffer said he will spend about two weeks remodeling before opening for business and will rename it the Justrite Drive-In.

A former partner of Carrol Madsen of Corte Madera in the firm of Shaffer and Madsen, grading contractors, Shaffer sold out his interest in 1959, and has been serving as transportation officer for the Marin County Sheriff's Department since then.

SATELLITE ON MARIN HILLSIDE

Providing a conversation piece for motorists who see it as they drive up and down Highway 101 through Terra Linda is this replica of the satellite Echo I, on a hill overlooking the new Greenfield Central Office of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., on Professional Center Parkway in San Rafael. It's there for the formal opening of the new building tomorrow from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Telephone conversations will be radio-beamed to bounce off the satellite replica, enabling visitors to carry on two-way conversations without phone wires, said J. J. Nichols, phone company district manager. (Independent-Journal photo)

County Clerk Explains Blair Recall Election

Only a majority of those voting would be needed to recall Supervisor J. Walter Blair in the Dec. 5 special election in the Marin Third Supervisorial District, County Clerk George S. Jones said today.

And if the majority voted "yes" on recalling Blair, Mill Valley attorney Peter Behr "would be elected even if he got only 10 votes," Jones said.

Voters will find two questions on the ballot, Jones said:

1—Whether they wish to recall Blair.

2—Whether they wish to elect Behr.

He said there will be space also for a write-in candidate, "but it doesn't mean anything; it's only a nuisance."

Jones said there are 19,285 registered voters in the district and that if 50 per cent of these turned out it would be a good showing for a special election.

They will vote in 33 polling places, he said, because of consolidation of two and three precincts in each voting place "for economy."

He gave costs for such elections as including $72 in salary for four employees at each polling place and $15 for rent. The consolidation thus would save at least $4,698, not counting cost of materials and their delivery.

Rough figuring showed that all told the election will cost the county about $5,000, Jones said.

Jones announced that meanwhile a check of the 1,052 names submitted last week as sponsors for Behr's nomination showed 898 to be valid. A minimum of 877 to a maximum of 1,052 were required.

Ineligibility of the 154 signatures was due to "wrong addresses, people moving," he said.

"We usually figure on a 20 per cent loss," he said.

In the event Blair is recalled and Behr is elected, Behr could take office as supervisor about 10 days after the election, Jones said.

Behr would be supervisor "right after the final certification, within 10 days. "I would issue the certificate of election and he would be in," the county clerk explained.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. All voters will be notified by mail where their polling places are. "They've been voting in a different place each time" in recent elections, Jones said, as the district has gone through reprecincting.

Missionary Hopefuls Will Be Interviewed

Dr. Winston Crawley, secretary of the Orient for the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board, will conduct interviews with prospective mission volunteers Nov. 2 at the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Crowley is a former missionary to China and the Philippines.

County Employment Turnover Increasing, Bruce Reports

Turnover in county employment is rising, according to a "performance report" furnished to county supervisors by Administrator Alan Bruce.

He said that the rate of turnover has climbed from a low of 1.2 per cent per month in April of last year to 2.04 per cent for September.

During July, August and September, 282 applications for county jobs were filed. During this period 149 had written tests, 55 were orally examined, 142 applications were reviewed without examination.

Sixty-four new appointments were made and 17 employees were promoted, Bruce reported.

The report noted that there was a drop of 15 per cent in number of criminal complaints filed for the first quarter, as compared with the previous year.

Documents filed with the county recorder were up 12 per cent for last quarter over the same quarter for last year, "continuing to show fast rate of growth."

Through September 10,972 dogs were licensed in the county, 508 more than for the previous year. Animal bites checked increased sharply from 463 for July through September, 1960 to 808 for the same period this year.

EDUCATION BOARD LEARNS NOT TO SHELF SHELVING IN PLANS

That question was raised at last night's San Rafael Board of Education meeting by board member C. Paul Bettini, as he scanned a list of requests for capital outlay items at elementary schools. Seven of the schools—mostly the newer ones—asked for shelving.

"There are never enough shelves in the new buildings," said Asst. Supt. Mildred B. Barnard. A half dozen principals present nodded agreement.

Board president Roderick P. Martinelli wondered out loud whether there is any standard list of fixtures a school needs which is provided the architect.

"From the looks of the buildings, I would say not," said Mrs. Barnard.

"Treating each school as a separate design is ridiculous anyway," put in board member John M. Bagshaw. "The State Division of Architecture should provide standard specifications."

Board members agreed the shelves would be put at the top of the priority list when they consider the capital outlay requests on Nov. 14.

Las Gallinas Asked Consolidation Terms

Marin County supervisors yesterday obeyed orders of the Regional Water Pollution Control Board by authorizing a letter to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District asking terms for consolidation.

In trouble because of waste discharges into Gallinas Creek, and under citation for violations by the Venetia Harbor and San Rafael Meadows Sewer Maintenance Districts, the supervisors were told by Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham that they had no other "feasible course" open.

The only other remedy, said Brigham, would be to construct a new plant for both primary and secondary treatment and to law a long line to carry affluent to some point in San Pablo Bay well away from recreational areas, an uneconomical proceeding with high cost.

The situation is, said Brigham, that 100 homes in Venetia Harbor subdivision are getting sewage treatment from a septic tank with discharges into the south fork of Gallinas Creek.

Brigham submitted a draft of a letter to Mrs. Annie Reagan as secretary of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, asking her to ascertain terms for annexation. He told the board that "it's up to the board to negotiate. They won't come to us and there is no way to force them."

After terms are ascertained there should be a meeting of affected residents, Brigham said.

Supervisor William Gnoss moved that Brigham proceed and the board unanimously approved.

Larkspur Plaza Gets Approval

Larkspur planning commissioners last night approved a tentative map for Larkspur Plaza which will include a 37,400-square foot shopping center and 12 acres of apartment buildings.

The plaza will be located at Doherty Drive and Magnolia Avenue, with an access road from Doherty Drive. The road will be 50 feet wide and 44 feet paved, and six feet for a sidewalk.

Owners of the property are Lee Brothers, owners of 27 markets in central and northern California. The shopping center will be split into two buildings, one for a supermarket and the other for smaller shops. Approximately 240 parking spaces are listed in the tentative plan.

The apartment buildings to the rear of the shopping center will have a maximum of 152 units, according to the plans.

Commissioners set a public hearing for Nov. 14 on rezoning the hillsides area next to Magnolia Avenue, from Elite Cleaners to the area opposite Doherty Drive, from commercial to multi-residential.

Richard H. Olmsted, San Francisco architect, presented a plan for 11 apartment buildings with 78 units which could be built behind the area which will possibly be rezoned.

The four-acre area, is owned by Joseph Pell, owner of the Woodland Apartments in Kentfield. Commissioners said they had not had time to study the plan with the fire commissioner and building inspector and decided to continue the matter until Nov. 14.

Play Try-Outs Tonight

Final try-outs for the Cove Players' production of "Nature's Way" will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the rehearsal hall, 112 Main Street, Tiburon.

Dixie Addition On Session Agenda

Dixie School District trustees tonight will consider plans for an addition to the Don Timoteo School and discuss application for a $230,000 state loan for the construction.

The board will also discuss the future of the Dixie School District, hearing from all principals and the curriculum coordinator.

State Corrections Deputy Head Named

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Laurence M. Stutsman, a 20 year career man with the State Corrections Department, was promoted to deputy director today.

He was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the elevation of Walter Dunbar from deputy to director.

Expulsion For Drinking Is Approved

San Rafael Board of Education members last night approved the year's first expulsion of a San Rafael High School student for drinking.

In doing so, however, the board members decided to take a long look, with principals and superintendent, at a policy of several years' standing which make expulsion automatic for a student who appears at school or a school function with evidence of having been drinking.

Board member John M. Bagshaw challenged the rule. He said he thought expulsion for a semester too severe a punishment for first offenders.

Other board members, particularly C. Paul Bettini and Rex Silvernale, sprang to the defense of the automatic expulsion requirement. Bettini said it had cut drinking at school functions from a major problem to "two or three cases a year." Principal Alfred N. Thomson of San Rafael High confirmed this.

However, president Roderick P. Martinelli and board member Bella Aaron agreed with Bagshaw that the policy should be carefully studied.

The student expelled last night is a senior boy. He attended a football game at the high school after having, according to his father, three beers. Principal Thomson's report did not charge he was drunk but said it was evident he had been drinking.

Vote confirming the expulsion was 4-1, with Bagshaw voting "no."

Mill Valley Plans Schedule Revised

The following revised schedule of hearings on Mill Valley's new master plan was announced at last night's meeting of the Mill Valley Planning Commission:

Nov. 2, land use. Commercial and industry including retail shopping, professional and administrative and special commercial.

Nov. 9, parks and recreation, school sites and public buildings.

Nov. 21, circulation and parking.

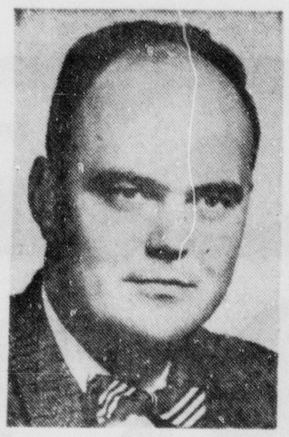
Meeting Canceled

Marin County Hospital District directors did not meet last night because of a lack of quorum. The board meeting was rescheduled for next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the staff lounge of Marin General Hospital.



NEW POST — Robert Pearson of 209 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, has been named to the new position of product engineer of the commodity products division of Soule Steel Co., San Francisco manufacturer of steel and aluminum building products.

Oil Painting Tops Votes At Festival

Receiving the highest number of votes for work displayed in merchants' windows at the Mill Valley Fall Festival Art Show was May McLellan of 211 Summit Avenue, chairman Elizabeth Collison said today.

Mrs. McLellan won the $25 award for her oil painting, "Yucca," displayed in Esposti's window. Ted Christensen received second largest number of votes for his painting, "Richardson Bay," in Mill Valley Furniture Shop, and third was Donald Dudley for his painting, "Untitled," in Mayer's Ltd. All artists are from Mill Valley.

Supervisors Will Support Audubon Plan

Efforts of the Marin Audubon Society to create a large bird sanctuary in the Bolinas Bay area will receive support of Marin County supervisors, it was decided after a presentation yesterday by William S. Picher of Belvedere, president of the society. A resolution in favor of the project will be prepared and adopted soon.

Picher said the Canyon Ranch project of the society will entail purchase of 375 acres, added to a gift of 125 acres now under lease, which with some non-navigable tideland inundated area will total 507 acres.

A fourfold objective was described: conservation of the lagoon's character, a bird sanctuary, and both recreation and education centers.

Picher said blue herons and American egrets are using the area for nesting and as a resting-place, terming the lagoon "an important part of the Pacific flyway" and of increasing value because of the disappearance of mud flats elsewhere such as Bodega Bay.

Fifty nests, used year after year, are producing about 100 egrets annually in the redwoods back of the Shoreline Highway, said Picher.

San Rafael Teachers Request $200 Salary Hike For This Year

San Rafael teachers last night asked for a $200 across-the-board pay raise for this year, and were promised an answer on Nov. 14.

Phillip Olsen, Terra Linda High School teachers and chairman of the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee, presented the case for the raise. He pointed out that both elementary and high school districts found themselves with more money than expected because of passage of federal school-aid laws, and said the teachers felt a pay raise should be granted before the additional money is spent on capital outlay.

The board had before it requests for capital outlay items totaling $61,305 in elementary schools, plus a calculator costing $722.80 at San Rafael High School. The calculator purchase, and battery radios for elementary schools, were approved. Action on the rest was delayed.

Board members said they would prefer to delay salary action until after the newly hired superintendent, Bert C. Corona, is on the job. He starts Nov. 1.

Also postponed, but for a different reason, was award of a contract for a music building and assembly court at Terra Linda High School. When bids were opened, all were well above the estimate of architect Carl F. Gromme.

E. Bridges Construction Co. came in low at $185,900, barely nosing out A. von Rotz, contractor of Terra Linda High additions now under way, who bid $186,870. Four other bids ranged to a high of $203,737 by Mid-State Construction Co.

The board set a meeting for Friday at 5:30 p.m. at which Gromme is to report on possibilities for reducing the cost.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. The board learned that R. E. Murphy and Sons had begun work on completion of the long-delayed Terra Linda High School pool. The board again ordered the San Rafael High pool drained and an inspection made.

2. The Sun Valley Parents Club asked for improvements to drainage at the Sun Valley School playground. The board ordered a survey.

3. Norris Rawles, city public works director, notified the board the city will not be ready to start widening Third Street until spring, but will expect the high school to move a fence and garage to make way for the job by then.

4. Asst. Supt. Mildred B. Barnard informed the board she will teach an evening class in school supervision at San Francisco State College during the spring semester.

5. Contract for extension of the Laurel Dell Intermediate School storm drain was awarded to Ghilotti Brothers on a low bid of $2,050.

6. Assistant Superintendent Barnard, sitting in for acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson, who is on vacation, recommended that vice principals at elementary schools be paid $300 above their pay as teachers, and that supervising teachers, who serve at some schools in lieu of vice principals, receive $150 aboveth eir teacher salaries. The proposal was put over for submission to Superintendent Corona.

7. Finding no guidance on civil defense from the county board of supervisors, the board re-affirmed its old policy which calls for evacuation of schoolhouses if the bomb falls.

8. The board instructed member Bella Aaron to inform the Curriculum Study Committee that a progress report by Christmas will be satisfactory.

9. Call for bids on some $8,000 worth of athletic equipment for Terra Linda High School was authorized.

10. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire was asked for a written opinion on whether the elementary district can permit pupils to be kept out of school for the first period of each day to attend a private reading school.

11. Application was authorized for $1,025 in federal funds for a foreign language laboratory at Terra Linda High.

12. Mrs. Jean Bell was hired as an elementary school teacher on temporary basis.

13. The board voted to ask the county for loans of $828,717 for the elementary school district and $802,615 for the high school district, to carry them through until receipt of taxes in December.

All members were present.

Halloween Dance, Party Planned

A Halloween dance and party for adults will be given at 9 p.m. Saturday by San Anselmo American Legion Post 179 in the Legion Log Cabin, Commander Patrick W. Pollock announced today.

There will be a buffet dinner and live music by a Marin combo, Chester Smith, vice commander and social chairman, said. Costumes are optional but Smith said "It's much more fun to dress up" and said there will be prizes for the best and most original costumes.

FREE MILK? NO, 'TRICK OR TREAT'

Up to their necks in milk cartons are these Marin mothers, busy attaching bright orange UNICEF labels for the Halloween "Trick or Treat" collection for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Many youngsters throughout the county will carry these cartons on Halloween, soliciting UNICEF funds instead of treats. From left, among the cartons, are (rear) Mrs. H. Dieter Schugt, county chairman of the drive, Mrs. Ralph Bacon, chairman of Lucas Valley-Terra Linda, and — submerged, with only outstretched arms showing — Mrs. Arnold Come, San Anselmo chairman. In front are Mrs. W. Raymond Baur (left), San Rafael chairman, and Mrs. Donald MacKay, Tiburon-Belvedere chairman. (Dandelet photo)

Blair's Performance Criticized At Debate

Questions of Supervisor J. Walter Blair's official performance were mainly to the fore in what was to have been a debate last night in the Mill Valley Community Church between Blair and his opponent in a December recall election, attorney Peter H. Behr.

Moderator Kenneth Pratt explained at the outset that the legality of the recall proceeding against Blair was not to be up for discussion.

But attorney Albert Bianchi, supporting Blair, took early opportunity to question whether there is valid basis for the recall. He also expressed doubt as to whether Behr's legal practice in San Francisco would allow him adequate time to serve as a Marin supervisor.

Blair read his campaign platform and declared that "I have endeavored to live up to it."

Behr said he concurred with those who consider Blair a man of honesty and sincerity, but said there was room for question as to his ability.

He said failure to act on the proposal that a "scenic highway" be made of the Shoreline road, rather than a freeway as laid down in state plans, furnished evidence of Blair's shortcomings.

Attorney Joseph E. Sheeks, in support of Behr, attacked the "tower apartments" to be built on Harbor Point of the Strawberry Peninsula with Blair's support.

Among questions from the audience was a hypothetical query to Blair as to how he would vote if it were found that an 80-cent tax boost were necessary to construct air raid shelters. Blair said this wasn't pertinent to recall, but he felt the people should vote on such an issue.

Another question, as to why he voted to stop work on the civic center, brought answer from Blair that the people had turned down a bond issue for a civic center and that he personally thought it too expensive. Since a new county hospital is needed, said Blair, he felt conversion for this purpose would be desirable if possible.

Sport Fishery Center Set For Tiburon

The United States Interior Department has decided to establish a Pacific Coast marine sport fishery research center at the Tiburon Naval Net Depot.

The department announced its plan in Washington today. The center will be known as the Tiburon Marine Research Laboratory.

It will be located at the abandoned submarine net depot which adjoins property being developed by Marin County as a county park.

The laboratory, for which plans are still incomplete, will be operated by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The department said Tiburon is "ideally located as to geography and environment," and added:

At its door are the ocean, bays, estuaries and coastal rivers. Geographically it fills a gap in the federal fishery research program which has long-established investigations for tuna and other fisheries in Southern California waters and the big Columbia research and development program to the north."

Record Names Donhoff Assistant To Publisher

John G. Donhoff has been named executive editor and assistant to the publisher of the Mill Valley Record and, under the new title, will head both the editorial and avertising departments. His former title was managing editor.

College Welcomes Foreign Students

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Foreign exchange students at Pennsylvania State University's College of Agriculture are encouraged to live for a week with a farm family.

Families who have been their hosts say they've learned more than the guests about the customs of a foreign country.

Station Gets Second Chance In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night reversed itself in acting on a request for a use permit for Wilshire Oil Co. to construct a $45,000 service station at Miller and Montford avenues.

It voted 3-1 to deny the permit, Commissioner A. A. Hemmerling voting "yes," but rescinded its vote after agent Raymond D. Anderson said he would ask his firm to see if a more suitable plan could be made which would have design, color and character in keeping with Mill Valley. The matter was continued to Nov. 9.

Commissioners approved a variance from parking ordinance and a plan for Keane and Ferrari Quality Meats to allow the addition of a seven by 33-foot refrigerated unit onto the north side of the Mill Valley Market at 12 Corte Madera Avenue.

It approved plans for Leet Enterprises Inc. to permit an addition to and remodeling of the structure, formerly Safeway Store, at East Blithedale and Sunnyside Avenues. Barry Smith, representing Leet, said street planting would be done surrounding the market property.

The commission disapproved a proposal by the Salvation Army to place a salvage drop box in one of the city parking lots, saying it would be an obstruction, unattractive, and would be an opening wedge for other organizations to make similar requests.

Terra Linda Fire Unit Meeting Set

Terra Linda Fire Chief Richard Flaherty will present specifications for a new 1,250-gallon fire truck at a special meeting of the Terra Linda Community Services District board on Monday at 8 p.m. in the firehouse.

Director John E. Duckett will also report on his conference with the county sheriff requesting special police protection to curb juvenile vandalism of the Terra Linda Shopping Center.

The board called off its meeting last night for lack of a quorum.

2 Jailed On Charges Of Passing Bogus Checks

Two San Rafael men were jailed last night on charges of forging at least 38 checks throughout Marin County over the past month.

Police said Donald William Bute, 47, an unemployed laborer who lives at the Mission Inn, 720 B Street, admitted cashing the bogus checks by using identification papers of Arthur R. Eklund, 45, an electrical contractor of 15 Bayview Street, San Rafael. He said he found the papers over a month ago.

Charles Ashton McDonald, 45, a salesman, also a resident of the Mission Inn, denied being an accomplice of Bute in a check-cashing spree. Bute told police McDonald suggested the idea and assisted him.

Police Inspector Nick Giampoli said Bute was picked up about 5 p.m. yesterday as he came out of his hotel by Sgt. Carl Selby. Bute was identified, Selby said, by a photograph taken of him by a hidden camera, as he cashed a check at Del's Liquor Store at 653 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, early in September. The camera, police said, photographs each check-casher.

None of Eklund's identification was found on the persons or in the rooms of either Bute or McDonald. Handwriting samples identified Bute as the writer of the checks, Giampoli said. He added that 10 merchants from Larkspur, San Rafael, Tiburon, Novato and Marinwood, all of whom had cashed checks for Bute, were unable to positively identify him.

Bute was charged with forgery. McDonald was charged with forgery, conspiracy and violation of probation. Both were held without bail pending appearance in municipal court this afternoon.

Pablo Picasso Fetes 80th Birthday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Painter Pablo Picasso celebrates his 80th birthday today as rich as a Rockefeller and probably richer than any artist ever has been in the history of the world.

The bulk of Picasso's fortune, according to his friends in the art world, is not in securities or cash, although he is rich from the sale of his paintings alone. The payload is his private collection of 532 of his paintings, many of them kept in a locked room in his villa, La Californie, near Cannes on the French Riviera.

No one knows the exact value of Picasso's hoard, which covers the entire range of the dozen periods into which his output falls. Art connoisseur and critic Alfred Frankfurter estimates that all the Picassos in existence are worth about 100 million dollars.

Only recently the state museum in Stuttgart, Germany, paid $250,000 for a Picasso entitled "Les Baladins" — the highest price ever paid for the work of a living painter. A pink period portrait of two nudes will be auctioned at Parke-Bernet Galleries here tonight and is expected to bring between $55,000 and $65,000.

"The astounding thing is that such regal market prices should have been attained by an artist while still in high production, thus adding constantly to his available work," said Frankfurter. He pointed out that flooding the market with new works usually keeps the value of an artist's paintings down.

Sharks Get Test For Their Taste

HONOLULU (AP) — A shipment of Hawaii's black tip and gray sharks have been sent to Australia for a taste test.

"We have our fingers crossed," said Michio Takata, head of the state Fish and Game Division. If the sharks pass their exams, Hawaii may have a new industry.

Meat of the school shark is popular in Victoria, Australia, where it is served as "white fillets."

Hawaii fishermen hope to become shark meat exporters, improving the islands' lagging fishing industry and decreasing the local shark population.

Plumber May Have Solution To School's Pipe Problem

Larkspur plumber Frank Evansco may have a plan to solve the water main problem at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera.

Evansco last night presented the Larkspur School District board with a preliminary plan for an emergency set-up of overhead water lines which could be used in case the underground mains rupture. (The water line beneath the school broke on Oct. 13, causing school to close for a day. It was caused by the settling of the filled ground below.)

The plan presented by the plumber would cost approximately $1,500 to the district. The pipes would be used as auxiliary lines in case of emergencies. Evansco said he would give a full report on the plan at the next trustee meeting Nov. 14.

Eldon Beck, architect for Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes of San Francisco, told the trustees he would present a master plan of the San Clemente School—now under construction off of Paradise Drive in Corte Madera—at the next board meeting.

Pete Elliott's Plea To Alumni May Give Him A Heap Of Trouble

HANLEY

Pete Elliott's plea to Illinois alumni to act as football scouts is going to give him more trouble than Pandora bargained for when she opened the box. Oldtimers in the coaching business handle alumni affairs delicately, knowing full well the downfall of many a brave coach has started off campus.

Bobby Dodd, now in his 17th year as head coach of Georgia Tech, attributes the secret of his longevity to a diplomatic but firm handling of Tech's alumni. He forbids all of them except two, one in Virginia, the other in North Carolina, to do any recruiting.

"You turn some of those wild-eyed alumns loose and they'll ruin you," says Dodd. "They'll go out and buy players and stir up the conference and get you into more trouble than you can get out of. Eventually, they'll destroy you. As soon as they get you a couple of good boys, they expect you to win the championship. And when you don't, they want you fired."

DUTCH MEYER, on the job for more than 20 years at Texas Christian, follows the same policy.

"Let some of those oilmen kick in with $5,000 and right away they are looking down your throat," says Meyer. "I found it safer to take my chances without them."

Elliott must be feeling a little desperate over Illinois' four straight losses, including a couple of 44-0 and 33-0 Big Ten shutouts, to say what he did at the weekly luncheon of coaches and writers in Chicago Monday.

"ILLINOIS CAN be as good as any football team in the Big Ten," said Pete. "But, first of all, we need good players. I would like to see more pride in the University of Illinois from people in the Chicago area.

"Illinois is your state school, but the situation is not like it is in many states where there is great pride in the school. It's not like Ohio, for instance, where all football fans are proud of the state university and work to see that it gets good material."

NOT PRECISELY the kind of language that wins friends and influences people because it has a sort of alibi ring to it even though Honest Pete undoubtedly did not mean it to sound that way. Nevertheless, there will be many around the Chicago area and on the Evanston campus who will interpret it that way.

Illinois, with only two football coaches in more than half a century prior to Elliott's appointment less than two years ago on a year-to-year deal, always was regarded as a dream assignment because of a quiescent alumni.

But now, with one brief luncheon speech, Elliott has stirred them up—and, like Pandora, he probably will get more than he bargained for.

NCAA To Tighten Rules In Fight Against Gamblers

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. still smarting under the basketball scandals of last March, aimed today to tighten the regulations on college players to the extent that they will be completely shielded from outside influences.

The powerful 18-man council of the NCAA—a body which rarely, if ever, is questioned by the organization, yesterday adopted four amendments to NCAA rules which would tighten the holds on college players.

The four amendments will be presented with the council's backing at the annual NCAA convention in Chicago on Jan. 11-13. They are almost certain to be passed.

The amendments are:

1. The barring of all outside basketball competition, including the summer leagues.

"Originally," said Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, "the recommendation was to bar the players from summer competition. But the council heard a report from the gambling committee which recommended all outside competition, and decided to adopt it."

2. A pre-registration rule that bars an athlete from engaging in varsity competition until he has been in residence in a college two years if he decides to transfer after registering at an institution.

J.C. TRANSFERS

"We have been concerned with athletes transferring from junior colleges and starting varsity competition," said Byers.

3. Transfer rule that would require an athlete to be in residence in the school to which he transfers for one year before he can engage in varsity competition.

4. A recommendation that an athlete suspended from a college for disciplinary or academic reasons must complete two years of satisfactory work to be eligible for varsity competition in another school. The present rule is one year.

The council also dealt out disciplinary penalties to Ohio Valley Conference schools, Tennessee Tech and East Tennessee State.

Tennessee Tech was placed on probation for two years and was ruled ineligible for NCAA events for one year and NCAA television programs for two years; East Tennessee State was placed on probation for one year with no other penalties.

Tennessee Tech violations concerned reducing financial assistance to a football player, not providing athletes with written statements of financial aid and providing assistance to an athlete after he had completed his freshman year at another school without first obtaining the clearance of the college's athletic director.

East Tennessee State was found guilty of furnishing a room to a prospective student-athlete in a dormitory prior to his enrollment, furnishing free transportation from the site of his summer job to his home and permitting two basketball prospects to "demonstrate their abilities to the head coach during the summer months."

Hickey Gives 49ers A Mild Chewing Out

CHICAGO (AP)—Mistakes that have cost the San Francisco 49ers dearly in their last two games won't be repeated in Pittsburgh Sunday if Coach Red Hickey has anything to say about it.

"I don't want to see any of those footballs hitting the ground," Hickey bellowed at his safety men yesterday during punting drill.

And guard Lou Cordileene was ordered to run six laps around the field on one occasion when Hickey decided he was a little slow in coming back upfield after going down to cover a punt.

Before the session started, Hickey called his players together and gave them what was later described as a mild chewing.

COULD BE WORSE

One player said "It was probably less than we deserved after the way Chicago handled us."

Chicago's Bears pasted the 49ers 31-0 Sunday. Some have said the Bears' defense caught up with Hickey's shotgun spread formation.

But Hickey claims the 49ers just let down in fundamentals. And he vows they won't again.

Hickey put free agent Don McIlhenny on the 49er roster yesterday in place of guard Mike Magac, who is in the Army. McIlhenny was recently released by the Dallas Cowboys.

Packers Take Offense Lead From 49ers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Green Bay Packers have taken over as the No. 1 offensive team in the National Football League, breaking the San Francisco 49ers' hold on the league's two major statistical departments.

The bulk of the credit must go to George Halas, owner and coach of the Chicago Bears, his coaching staff, and the players who carried out the assignments in the Bears' 31-0 victory over San Francisco Sunday.

While Chicago's 5-2-4 defense was limiting the 49ers to only 132 yards gained, the Packers were piling it up against Minnesota in a 33-7 rout and took over the top spot in total offense with 2,156 gained to 2,142 for San Francisco, league statistics showed today.

The 49ers, despite their overwhelming loss, remained the top defensive club with 1,374 yards given up to 1,435 for the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals. The Cards have been the toughest team to run against, allowing a low of 443 yards in six games.

Neves Equals Track Record

SAN MATEO (AP) — The California turf record of a jockey winning six races on one program was equalled at Bay Meadows yesterday by Ralph Neves, a veteran of 27 years in the saddle.

The "pepper pot" of Portuguese descent thus become the fifth rider to take six horses to the winner's circle. He shares a mark held by Johnny Adams, Basil James, Johnney Longden and Willie Harmatz.

Neves, 43, has a career total of 3,578 winners which places him sixth on the list of winningest jockeys. He is leading the current Bay Meadows meeting, now in its final week, with 40 winners in 147 starts.

Bears Work Hard For Penn State

BERKELEY (UPI) — The University of California worked hard on defense and offense today before flying east at the end of the week to meet Penn State Saturday.

Coach Marv Levy, disappointed with the Bears' performance against USC last Saturday, said his charges needed more contact work. He put that plan into action yesterday when his charges went through two strenuous hours of contact drills.

Stanford Prepares For UCLA Attack

Coach Jack Curtice put his Indians through a marathon three-hour practice session yesterday. Tackle Al Hildebrandt, injured in last weekend's contest with Washington, was the only player to miss the drill.

Football Not Only Has Foot Back, But Boot Is Better

NEW YORK (AP) — The foot is not only back in college football but it's a highly accurate one, a mid-season check by the NCAA Service Bureau has indicated.

During the first half of the 1961 season, 81.8 per cent of all point-after-touchdown — well above the record high percentage of 74.6 set last year.

In 1958, the last year of the "narrow" posts, the college booters were successful in only 61.7 per cent of their tries for points after touchdowns.

Along with the return of the foot came a decreasing use of the two-point conversion try. It is being used less this year than at any time since it was introduced three years ago.

Two-pointers have been tried after only 26.2 per cent of this year's touchdowns. Its percentage of success is only 42.3. When it first was introduced the option was used after 59.3 per cent of the touchdowns.

The collegians also are kicking field goals at a record rate. They've booted 128 in 301 games, 12 more than at the same time a year ago. Their success average is 51.9 per cent as against 46.6 per cent last season.

All told 29 of the 112 major teams have perfect point-after-touchdown records, headed by New Mexico State with 29.

Sausalito Little League Meeting

A general Little League membership and organization meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the Sausalito City Hall Nov. 1, announced Jim Muldoon, vice president.

President, Mrs. J. E. Taylor, said that "survival of the local league depends upon general community participation in the program," and added that "124 local youngsters played Little League ball during 1961."

Former president Willard A. Hall of Sausalito is to preside at the Nov. 1 meeting.

TV HOCKEY IS TONIGHT

The San Francisco hockey team will make its debut on TV tonight over Channel 2, KTVU at 8 p.m. with a live and direct telecast of the Portland Buckaroos game from the Portland Sports Arena.

MARIN BOWLING ROUNDUP

Young Country Club Keggers Upset S.F.

Last week Country Club Bowl in San Rafael hosted and also pulled the upset of the Bay Area "900" Junior Masters League.

Led by young Ed Poususney smashing home a 577 series, Country Club dumped a favorite and over-confident San Francisco team from Brentwood Bowl. Also contributing to the upset was Country Club team captain Howard Salkin who rolled a 588 series. Posusney rolled a 204 high game in his series and Salkin a 208.

The Posusney family were going strong last week. Over at cross town Greenbrae Lanes, the senior Ed Poususney threw a firey 643 series with games of 202-239 and 202.

The next best series of the week were thrown by Don Greenhaugh at Nave Lanes in the Tuesday Men's Handicap (632-246) and Bill Howey in the Marin Masters League (632-247).

Meanwhile at Greenbrae, another deadlock at 630 was between George Wark (226-225) and Ray Brusati (203-246). A healthy 629-220-200-209 was amassed by Hal Farb at the Country Club in the 900 Classic League.

A gal demonstrated some real skilled bowling at Nave. Myrna Sjoblom rolled a tremendous 604-211 in the Women's Classic league. Her closest opponent recorded only a 550 series.

Slugging Titles To Mantle, Robinson; Cepeda Is Second

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, who took a back seat to teammate Roger Maris in the 1961 home run race, captured the American League slugging crown for the third time with a .687 percentage.

Cincinnati's Frank Robinson won the National League slugging title for the second straight season with a .613 average, figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today.

A year ago Mantle accumulated the most total bases in the junior circuit, but Maris wound up the slugging leader at .581. This season it was the reverse, Maris leading in total bases and Mantle topping the sluggers.

Mantle, whose 54 home runs were second best to Maris' record of 61, accounted for 353 total bases in 514 at bats. Among his 163 hits were 16 doubles with 6 Triples. The 30-year-old switch-hitter had previously annexed the slugging crown in 1955 with .611 and 1956 with .705.

Robinson, whose productive bat was instrumental in the Reds' winning the National League pennant, collected 334 total bases in 545 trips. The wiry right-handed swinger's extra-base output included 33 doubles, 7 triples and 37 homers among his 176 hits.

The 26-year-old outfielder was the slugging champion in 1960 with a .595 mark, becoming the first Cincinnati player to win the title since Edd Roush accomplished the feat in 1918.

San Francisco's Orlando Cepeda, the National League home run king with 46, finished a close second to Robinson at .607.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee at .594.

Harrison Fires 64 In Vegas Tourney

LAS VEGAS (AP)—An 8-under-par 64 by Bob Harrison of Pacific Palisades has placed him in the van for the $19,500 Sahara Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

Harrison fired an eagle and seven birdies yesterday for two 32s over the Las Vegas municipal course, par for which is 72. Half the field played at the Paradise Valley Country Club course. The players switched courses today.

Tied for second place are Juan Rodriguez of Forado Beach, Puerto Rico, and Jerry Steelsmith of Glendale Calif., with 65s. Al Balding of Toronto and Billy Maxwell of Dallas had 66s.

Pop Warner Teams Are In Action

SAN ANSELMO-ST. VINCENT

Bob Johnson of St. Vincent's rambled 70 yards in the second quarter to give St. Vincent's a 7-0 halftime lead over San Anselmo Hornets in a game played at St. Vincent's.

San Anselmo scored in the fourth quarter when QB Doug Castle passed to Stan Hardaman for 25 yards and then threw to Hardaman for the PAT making the score 7-7. The final score came when quarterback Castle was nailed in his own end zone by a swarm of St. Vincent's linemen for the safety that made the difference with the final score 9-7, St. Vincent's.

TERRA LINDA-SAN RAFAEL

Terra Linda drove 85 yards the first time they received the ball with halfback Steve Mueller going the final 5 yards for the score. The Trojans maintained a 6-0 score as a fired up San Rafael team, behind key playing of fullback Perry Vlahos held Terra Linda until late in the third quarter when the Trojans put together a 55 yard drive with Dick Berling going the final two yards for the score.

Halfback Tom Jenkins ran for the PAT. The fourth quarter found a game and determined San Rafael team controlling the ball but unable to score. The final score Terra Linda 13, San Rafael 0.

REDWOOD-WILLITS

The Redwood Jr. Giants led by hard running of fullback Tommy Sather and halfback Danny Salata rolled over Willits by a score of 38-14.

Sather accounted for the first 20 points the Giants scored as he ran for three touchdowns of runs of 3, 10 and 6 yards. He also booted two extra points. Sather had a pair of field goal attempts miss only by inches. Salata romped for 10 yards and his only score of the game in the third quarter.

Rusty Poole made the score 32 to 14 when he ran for four yards in the third quarter. The final Giant score came in the fourth quarter when halfback Henry Farre rambled 11 yards around his own right end.

The final score: Redwood 38, Willits 14.

Coaches, Officials Held Responsible For Grid Deaths

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some football coaches have suggested that unscrupulous members of their profession and negligent officials possibly were preponderant factors in grid fatalities.

"Somebody's got to be teaching it to those kids," said Penn Coach John Stiegman, referring to a report by another coach that he observed blockers smashing their forearms into the chins and under the face guards of their opponents.

The other coach, Irv. Wisniewski, an assistant at Delaware, had told the Philadelphia Football Writers Club yesterday he witnessed the activity last week in a game. He did not say which game.

"The pro scouts in the stands couldn't understand how they got away with it," said Wisniewski. "Not only is it against the rules but it can be fatal. When the face guard is hit from underneath the back of the helmet is tilted into hard contact with the vertebrae in the neck. The vertebrae could snap."

By AL MATSON

As the final chapter of the Yacht Racing Assn.'s Campaign for 1961, recorder Don Seaton has issued his official report covering the end status of all the classes and division boats that participated. And the figures, revealing the seasonal point scores, prove that in many instances it was a hot battle from wire to wire.

For instance, in Cruising Club "B" it was necessary to dig into times of finish for two of the entries to determine the winner as they finished in a dead heat with 130 and one-fourth points each. It was a battle between two outlanders, Norman Lezin's K-40 West Wind from Santa Cruz and Bill Chase's L-36 Carina representing the Stockton sailing club.

The West Wind emerged the season's champion and we would be highly remiss if we failed to mention that the victory was due to her astute skipper, none other than Bruce Easom of San Rafael. Another L-36 Pat Kirrane's Andale, in close contention all the way, finished third just a niggardly five points off the pace.

It was a different story in cruising club "C." The other Easom, Hank to his friends—but what the competition may call him is a good question—again waltzed home an easy victor to the tune of his Dasher Class Serenade, a product incidentally of his own handiwork.

A noteworthy victory was that of Dr. Henry Turkell, Sausalito Cruising Club, in division 11 with the Yawl Pathfinder. Noteworthy because the boat is 41 years old, the lines were taken from an older yacht, Arthur Stevens' Ruby, and was built on the mud flats of Alameda by a couple of young fellows, Tommy Pickersgill and Emil Lundberg on weekends.

The season's champions and runner-ups:

Cruising Club "A," Bolero, 31¼ points, Orient, 28¾ points; Baruna, 21½ points; Cruising Club "B," West Wind, 130¼ points; Carina, 130¼ points; Andale, 125 points; Cruising Club "C," Serenade, 60½ points; Nautigal, 46¼ points; Baby Grand II, 40¼ points; Cruising Club "D," Triton, 90¼ points; Grumpy, 84 points; Circe, 77 and one-half points; Division 9, Dyad, 120¾ points; Jan, 113¾ points; Freya, 114¼ points; Div. 10, Angelique, 87¾ points; Coho, 81¼ points; Pirate, 74 points.

Div. 11, Pathfinder, 121¾ points; Helaine, 108 points; Div. 14, Escape, 123¾ points; Flying Spray, 117¾ points; Vim, 112 points.

Div. 15, Vagabond, 69 points; Wingding, 67¾ points; Haja, 63¾ points; Div. 17, How Now, 36¼ points; Norvik, 33¾ points; Jackpott, 29¼ points; Farallone Clipper, Hoyden II, 46¾ points; Mistress II, 36¼ points; Debit, 30 points; Rhodes, 33; Dusty, 60½; Caper, 39; Ah Wahine, 37½; Windward, Bora, 47¾; Koolau, 47¾; Pagan III, 45; P.I.C., Picsea, 34¾; Quadrille, 21; Blue Peter, 17¾; Bird, Puffin, 37¼; Skylark, 31¼; Oriole, 22; Acorn, Tunami, 34¾; Sea Point, 30¾; Hulaki, 24¾; Bear, Wiki, 159¾; Cub, 146½; Shaggy, 136½; Junior Clipper; Quickstep, 57½; Nordkapp, 53½; Picaroon, 46½; Golden Gate, Smoothie Too, 85; Ryot, 74½; Lively Lady, 61¼; Hurricane; Random, 62; Gandy, 55; Haven, 54¼; Treasure Island; Rebel, 74¾; Luau, 63½; Chantey, 60; I. C.; Rutsan, 106¾; Trident, 98; Hajo, 86; Buccaneer; Raider, 35¼; Cutlass, 22½; Red Witch, 17; Maya; Sacrebleu, 39¾; Gambit, 36½; Bahama, 24; Folkboat; Snaps, 262½; Annie, 237½; Flirt, 236; Spaulding, 33; Kim, 28¾; Leilani, 21½; Moonstone, 19; Fleur Bleue; Tackless, 39½; Snapdragon, 27½; Anemone, 21¼; Carinita; Galelita, 41; Roxana, 35; Drift Wood, 22½; Pacific Clipper; Shon Hee, 54½; Reverie, 51¾; Hoqua, 38¾; Sea Horse; Filly, 28½; Sea Mist, 16¼; Aqua Pony, 16¼; Yankee; Venture, 21; Flame, 20; Tarfun, 17; Knarr; Squirrely II, 64¼; Blue Peter II, 55; Circe II, 54.

Ferris Expected To Surrender AAU Leadership Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dan Ferris probably will surrender the reins as virtual czar of the National AAU at the Nov. 29-Dec. 3 meeting in Washington, an AAU official says.

David Matlin, Beverly Hills lawyer and fourth vice president of the national body, said today a committee is working on a successor and has reduced a field of nine candidates to five.

Ferris resigned as executive secretary in 1957 but continued to run the nation's amateur sports program as honorary secretary.

"Mr. Ferris has expressed his desire several times to retire but there hasn't been anyone qualified to do the job, for his 53 years in the AAU is hard to replace," said Matlin.

Mercy Bowl Game Set For Players' Survivors

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It was just a year ago next Sunday that a plane carrying a band of Cal Poly football players crashed in the mid-west, killing 17 and maiming many others for life.

It was one of the greatest sports disasters in history and today the survivors in San Luis Obispo, the home of the small school, still are in trouble.

The result is that there'll be a Mercy Bowl Grid game played in Los Angeles Nov. 23 between Bowling Green and, probably Fresno State.

The promoters hope to raise $300,000 to help the survivors and pay off some of the costs of the tragedy—costs that still hang and are mounting every day. The list is tremendous:

—One gridder still is taking treatments, has a $28,000 hospital bill—and sees nothing bright for the future.

—Funeral expenses for the 17 men still haven't been paid.

—Two players still are under medical care and probably will be for the rest of their lives.

And so it goes on through the list.

The airline that was carrying the team to its day of doom went bankrupt, and the insurance company found a loophole on this basis that it did not have to pay off. Not a nickel's worth of insurance ever was collected.

The college did have an NCAA insurance policy, but this paid off only at the rate of about $5,000 per person—which was chicken feed for any destitute wife to try and bring up children on.

SAMPLING AND SELECTING ingredients for dishes that will be served up at the "India Summer" salad luncheon planned by the Marin Catholic Women's Club on Nov. 1 in the dining room of the school are committee members, from left, Mesdames William Fuetsch, Louis Palleschi, chairman; Lytton Schwerin and John C. La Boxteau. The luncheon will feature recipes touched by the magic of the Far East. (Independent-Journal photo)

India Summer Theme For Marin Catholic Club Salad Luncheon

"India Summer," theme of the 12:30 p.m. salad luncheon to be held by the Marin Catholic Women's Club on Wednesday, Nov. 1 in the school dining room, has inspired committee members to an exchange of some of their own recipes touched by the magic of the Far East.

The party itself will feature cold dishes which may or may not be redolent of savory spices and exotiques and certainly will not be served by bearers gowned in Benares silk saris or brocaded choli blouses. However, as committee talk waxed enthusiastic about creative cookery, these recipes were gathered as lending themselves readily to intimate little meals or easily expandable to large party size at home—all of them noteworthy in delicacy of taste and aroma.

PILAU

Mrs. Dismo J. Scatena of Greenbrae, the hostess chairman for "India Summer," says that "the Northern India preference for Pilau rather than curry, as we know it, shows the historical Persian influence.

- 2 large onions, chopped
- 1 green pepper, chopped
- ½ cup salad oil
- 2 fricassee chickens
- ½ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup water
- 1 pound package rice
- 3 teaspoons curry powder
- 1 cup white raisins
- 1 cup cashews—or almonds or walnuts
- 1 medium-sized onion, finely chopped

In a Dutch oven, saute the onions and green pepper in the oil until soft; then remove from oil and set aside. Cut up the chickens and shake pieces in paper bag containing the flour, salt and pepper. Brown chicken in the oil; then return the sauteed onion and green pepper to the kettle, add the water and simmer about two hours.

Wash the rice and dump into boiling salted water to which you have added the curry powder. You want a fair amount of curry powder, as the product made in this country isn't as strong as that made in India. That amount of Madras curry powder would bring tears to your eyes. Cook the rice until tender (the only way to tell this is to chew on a few pieces); then pour it into a colander and give it a quick wash with warm water. The rice will be golden. Add the raisins and the whole or broken cashews.

Remove chicken from bones, add rice, and mix with the chicken stock. They do this with their hands in India, so why not here? Taste and add more salt if necessary. Make it into a mound in a casserole and cover with finely chopped onion. Put it in the oven to keep hot until ready to serve, but not too long or you will ruin the rice. The secret of this dish is the rice. This will serve 10. Serve with mango chutney.

INDIAN CURRY

Also from Greenbrae is Mrs. R. O. Scott who shares with us this recipe for Indian Curry:

- 2 lbs. beef
- 4 large onions
- 2 tablespoons curry paste
- 4 tablespoons oil (olive)

Salt, pepper, meiyen to taste

Cut beef into cubes. Slice onions very thin and have oil very hot in a saucepan. Add beef to hot fat and toss until brown. Remove beef to dish and keep warm. Fry the onions until brown and then add the curry paste. Cook this mixture for a few moments and add the beef. Add seasoning and enough water or soup stock to just cover the meat. Simmer gently for two hours. This needs no thickening.

CURRIED LAMB

Mrs. William Fuetsch of Greenbrae, decorations chairman, gives this recipe for lamb but says beef, veal or pork can be used instead.

- 3 pounds lamb shoulder
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 4 large onions, sliced
- ¾ cup butter
- 4 small apples, pared and chopped
- 4 tablespoons curry powder
- 4 tablespoons brown sugar
- 4 tablespoons raisins
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 lemons, sliced
- 4 tablespoons shredded coconut
- ¾ cup chopped walnuts
- ½ teaspoon grated lime peel
- 1 tablespoon salt

Cut meat into two-inch cubes. Roll it in flour. Saute garlic and onion in butter in large skillet for five minutes or until lightly browned. Add meat and saute for ten minutes, stirring constantly. Add apples and curry powder. Simmer for five minutes, stirring occasionally. Add the remaining ingredients and two cups of water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer for one hour. Serves six. Fresh or leftover peas, string beans, carrot slices, mushrooms may be added to curry during the last ten minutes of cooking.

While other suggestions ranged from saffron sauce for fish to curried walnuts and carmelized bananas, one buffet idea for serving of curry included accompanying a big bowl of hot flaky rice with a tray of such accessories as pine nuts, shredded coconut, pickled onions, spiced currants, ginger preserves, rind of navel oranges, chopped parsley, slivered almonds, diced cucumbers, quince jelly and poppadums (which come packed in tin boxes with dried leaves between the wafers.)

Spicy Peach Butter

"Spicy Peach Butter" has all the goodness of long-simmered fruit butters, but is ready in only half-an-hour. Golden, juicy canned cling peaches are the time-saver—and flavor-maker. There are only four ingredients plus the peaches—easy for you and a good break-in for your junior cook.

Serve this sunny butter from your prettiest jam dish, and pass plenty of muffins, toast, biscuits or English muffins to spread it on. "Spicy Peach Butter" takes so little time to prepare that you don't have to make it up in enormous batches or worry about sealing. Just store in the refrigerator. When the supply runs out, it's only a few minutes until more is ready.

SPICY PEACH BUTTER

- 1 (1 lb. 13 oz.) can cling peach slices
- ½ cup brown sugar, packed
- 3 tablespoons cider vinegar
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves

Drain peaches; chop coarsely. Combine peaches, sugar, vinegar, cinnamon and cloves in saucepan; bring to a boil. Simmer for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; put mixture through coarse sieve, if desired. Store covered in refrigerator. Makes 1⅓ cups.

Fourth Session Set For Cooking School

Three dishes will be featured by Chef Paul Mayer at the fourth session of the cooking school sponsored by the Outdoor Art Club of Mill Valley. The session will be Friday at 10 a.m. at the club house.

Friday's specialties will be Voille de Bresse Mascotte (chicken dish with truffles), Saumon au champagne (salmon and champagne) and Fonds du Artichaud Favorite (artichoke stuffed with green beans).

Safe In An Oven

Pour Sauce Over Unfrosted Cake

Nowadays cake mixes often serve as puddings. It takes little time to mix up a package of mix and offer the cake, warm from the oven, with a sauce.

The sauce, made from scratch in your own kitchen, adds that home-prepared touch family and friends are likely to praise.

TOKAY SAUCE

- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen pineapple-orange concentrate
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1½ cups Tokay grapes (halved and seeded)

Reconstitute the pineapple-orange concentrate according to the can directions; measure 1 cup; reserve remaining juice for another use. In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the cornstarch and sugar; gradually stir in the 1 cup pineapple-orange juice. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened and clear. Stir in butter until melted. Add grapes and serve warm over white or yellow cake squares or cottage pudding. Makes enough for 6 servings.

Miss Eleanor Beales Honored At Mrs. Waste's Luncheon

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Miss Eleanor Beales was honored at a luncheon by Mrs. William Waste of Ross Monday. Miss Beales is retiring as manager of the Bargain Box at Sunny Hills, the shop which raises money to keep the home in operation. Miss Beales has been associated with the Bargain Box ever since it was established 10 years ago and has been manager for nine years.

Other luncheon guests were Mesdames Edwin Weed, Wallace Scott, Phillip Crane, John Reichmuth, Edwin Wells, Donald Jeffries, H. Wallace Hickman, Robert Kettenbach, Samuel Archibald, Donald Perry, Raymond Thayer, Carlo Caletti, Harold Fletcher, Sidney Peters and Alexander McAndrew.

On Oct. 31 Miss Beales and the new manager of the Bargain Box, Mrs. Muriel Hill of San Rafael, will be honored at an open house and tea at the shop.

PARENTS' WEEKEND at Thacher School in the Ojai Saturday and Sunday is taking several Marin couples southward. Capt. and Mrs. John G. Lewis of Ross will be with their son, Ed. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Crawford, also of Ross will join their son, Robert and the Andrew Halleys of Kent Woodlands will go down to be with their son, Peter.

FORMER SAUSALITANS, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barrett Holland, who have a beautiful new home at Pt. Lobos near Carmel, are returning to Marin to celebrate their wedding anniversary and are headquartering at the Edgewater. Sunday night they will be honored at a dinner to be hosted by the Fred A. Figones of San Anselmo. Other guests of Sarah and Fred will be Dr. and Mrs. George Eveleth of San Francisco and Dr. James Wetmore of San Rafael.

MRS. PAUL B. FAY JR. (Anita Marcus) is spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Marcus of Mill Valley. She flew from Washington, D. C. sans children. Her husband, the Navy undersecretary, will join her tomorrow and he will be the speaker Friday at the Commercial Club, San Francisco, in observance of Armed Forces Day. Several dinner parties are being given for Anita and Red. Among the hosts will be the Edwin Callans and Robert Haynies of San Francisco. Red and Anita will also spend some time with his parents, the senior Paul Fays of Woodside, who have taken an apartment on Russian Hill.

The young Fays are close friends of the Kennedy family. Red was an usher at the wedding of President Kennedy. The President is the godfather of the Fays' daughter, Sally. They have two other children, Kathy and Paul III.

AN AFTERNOON RECEPTION and tea and later a buffet supper for out of town guests Sunday served to mark the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Keyes of San Rafael.

The celebration, which drew about 75 guests to honor the couple, was given at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas King in San Rafael. Another daughter, Mrs. William Maas, and Mrs. Eleanor McCallum, Mr. Keyes' sister, poured.

Among those enjoying the celebration were the Keyes' grandchildren, Marshall and Gerald King and Mark and Melinda Maas, all of San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyes were married Oct. 25, 1921 at the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Barbara McCulley Engaged To Wed Jon A. Wright

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. McCulley of Monterey have announced the engagement of their daughter Barbara to Jon A. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Wright of Tacoma, Wash.

Barbara attended Sir Francis Drake for three years and was graduated from Monterey Union High School. She is now a junior at the University of California at Berkeley. The announcement was made at Joaquin Hall, where Barbara is house president.

The future benedict is a graduate of Stadium High School in Tacoma, Wash., and received his degree from California Institute of Technology, and M.A. from University of California, where he is now working on a Ph. D. in physics.

Patrol Scouts Selected For 1962 Roundup

The Girl Scout Senior Roundup at Button Bay, Vt. in 1962 is one step closer for 16 Marin Senior Scouts who were selected for the Roundup training patrol.

Mrs. Walter Carter is roundup trainer. The chosen Senior Scouts will attend training meetings before the final selection of the Roundup Patrol of eight girls and eight alternates is made in January.

Selected for the training patrol were Lynda Smith and Eleanor Watkins, Troop 20; Yvonne Julianus, Susan Klarkowski, Jill Nelson and Sylvia Shapiro, Troop 132; Barbara Carter, Sue Henderson, Nicole Marculescu and Paula O'Connell, Troop 161; Andree Stetson, Troop 171; Katie O'Neill, Maureen Thompson and Susan West, Troop 255; and Kathy De Brecht and Jean Fagnani, Troop 345.

Books Theme For Reed P-TC Fair

"Books are Bridges" is the theme chosen for the book fair given by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club. The fair will be held from Oct. 30 through Nov. 5. Monday and Tuesday the books will be on display at the Bel Aire School and the remainder of the week at the Reed School.

Chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Francois Leydet of Belvedere. Mrs. Leydet is the former Patience Abbe and the author of several books including "Of All Places" and "No Place Like Home." As a young girl she co-authored with her brothers Richard and John the story of their world travels, "Around the World in Eleven Years."

Others working on the fair are Robert Bastian, who will make the posters, and a book selection committee, Dr. and Mrs. P. Dunlap Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Patten, Mesdames John Osborn, Henry Schubart, George McKegney, William Polhemus, Richard Adams, Robert Williams, George Ellman, Walther Buchen and Miss Joyce Wilson.

On Ball Committee

Marinites Mrs. Leo Strauss and Mrs. Edgar Rowe are on the committee for the Mannequin's Ball to be given Friday in San Francisco by the Women's Auxiliary of the Big Brothers of San Francisco and Professional Models' Assn. Mrs. Strauss is co-chairman and Mrs. Rowe is special events co-chairman.

December Wedding Is Planned By Julie Bridgman

A Dec. 19 wedding at St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon has been planned by Julie Bridgman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mailliard Bridgman of Belvedere, and William Joseph Hickey III.

After their marriage the pair will live in San Francisco and Julie will continue her studies at San Francisco State College.

Tiburon Club Sets Children's Party

"Little goblins" only will attend the Halloween party at the Tiburon Peninsula Club Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m.

A costume parade will highlight the party for children, with prizes for costumes in three age groups, three to four year olds, five to six year olds and seven to nine year olds. The party is open only to children of members.

Mrs. Donald Pickett is party chairman. She will be aided by Mesdames Erik Rettig, Luther Conover, Joachim Burhenne, Ted Beardsley, Milton Levitan, William Ellingsen, Arno Rayner, Robert Bagnall, John Moore, Al Trobbe and Garrett Gast.

Kappa Delta Alums To Honor 40-Year Member At Luncheon

Mrs. Albert M. Williams of Fairfax, who was initiated into Kappa Delta sorority 40 years ago at the University of Washington, will be honored by the Marin Kappa Delta Alumnae Assn. at its Founders Day luncheon at 12:30 p.m. on Saturday at Sabella's.

Mrs. Williams was a province president for two years, in attendance at four Kappa Delta conventions, and a member of the alumnae national committee for one year. She was associated with the Community Chest for several years, including a three-year term on the board. She was also associated with Girl Scouting for 20 years, including 19 years on the board of North Orange County, as well as three years as president. Her P-TA work included one year as president.

At present she is serving Kappa Delta alumnae as secretary. Since moving to Marin County two years ago, she has attended four sections of AAUW and is serving as assistant chairman of the social and economic issues section. Her principal activity now is with a group which meets once a week to mend used garments for Church World Service, and to make children's clothing for American Friends Service. In the past year she has made almost 200 garments and quilt tops. She has two daughters, one in Massachusetts and one in San Anselmo, and six grandchildren.

Soviets Winning Without War, Says Mrs. Ray Clapper

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Raymond Clapper says the Soviet Union need not go to war to dominate the world eventually.

"In 1954, when I went around the world for CARE," she said, "I came home convinced the Russians didn't need to go to war . . . that in perhaps 10 years they would have moved in to the utterly depressed parts of the world. I still feel that. There's a terrible differential between the needs of the world, and the time we have to help meet them."

Olive Clapper, 66, a resident of Washington, is the widow of the famous newspaperman killed in a bomb crash in 1944 while he was covering the war in the Pacific. She is a member of the board of directors of CARE, and now, she's busy on another project—helping to direct President Kennedy's Food for Peace program.

'NO HOPE'

Part of the Food for Peace plan is to appeal to American business and industry to supply implements and the technicians to aid backward peoples of the world.

"Sixty per cent of the world's population is going to bed hungry," said Mrs. Clapper. "These are people whose economy now provides them no hope . . . They can't work, they can't learn. They're bereft and lost, and beautiful targets for communism.

"These millions who live drearily day by day suddenly are told how fine life is in the Soviet Union. Certainly, they're getting a false interpretation . . . but how do they know it. The Soviets are better propagandists than we are."

"You can't have experienced things I've seen and ever sit back in a rocking chair," she said. "I've seen mothers standing in line waiting for even a little powdered milk for their children . . . and faint from hunger as they stood. I've had babies die in my arms . . . "

"I cannot help thinking," she continued, "that the lives of two small boys whose family live in a cave in Libya, with not even a straw mat for a bed . . . I cannot help but believe that their future is intimately tied in with the future of my two small grand-daughters.

IN ONE ROOM

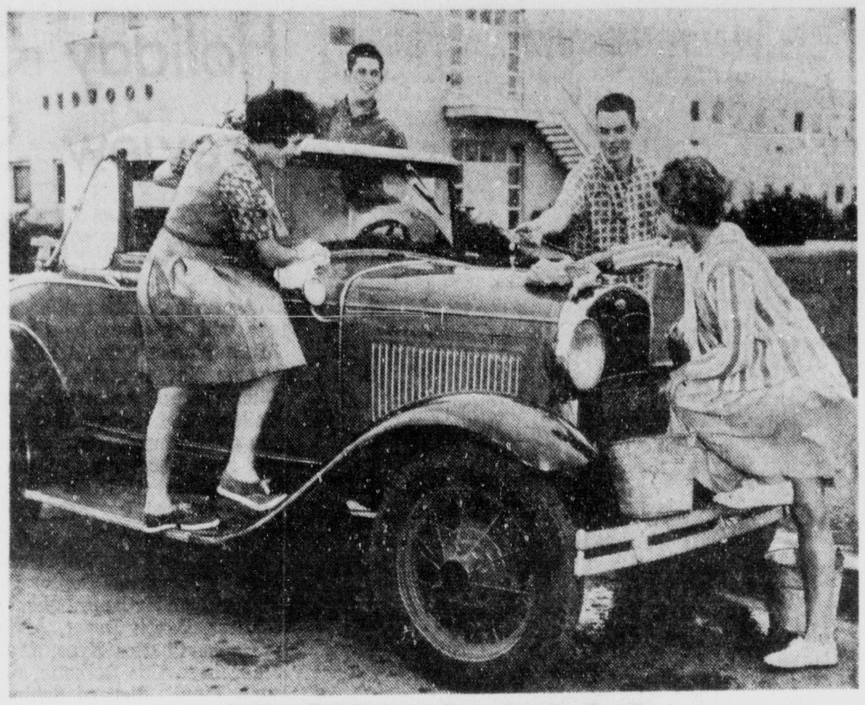
After Clapper's death in 1944, his widow turned to lecturing and writing and has had several books and articles published.

"On this thing of being a widow," said Mrs. Clapper, "every day I have women come up to me and say, 'What will I do with my time . . . I'm going crazy.'

"I tell them, 'Show up tomorrow at my office at CARE, or at any other volunteer agency. Agencies need help desperately."



JUNIORS WASH THE CAR

Better To Regret What You Have Done Says Fanny Hurst

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—To Fannie Hurst, the saddest words ever said or written are "If only . . . "

"It is better to regret what you have done than to regret what you have not done," said the novelist whose poignant love stories through the years have been the handkerchief industry's best friend.

Miss Hurst's best-selling "Back Street" has been made into a movie again. She also has another novel hitting the book stores. This one is called "God Must Be sad" (Doubleday) and has a love story and religious conflict as its plot.

To mark this double-entry, we journeyed to Miss Hurst's triplex in one of New York's oldest apartment houses for a talk with the lady whom one critic once called the "Sob Sister of American Fiction."

"When I read what he said," Miss Hurst observed, "I almost killed mystelf . . . and I could have killed him.

"As every other author feels, I like to think that I am not playing on the heart strings, but am writing the basic motivations of people.

"I think the reason 'Back Street' has proved timeless is that it reaches into the human heart . . . to the yearnings and frustrations of many. People see some sort of identification in it. I've had thousands of persons tell or write me, 'You know, I had an aunt or a sister you must have written about'."

Universal-International Pictures' release of the movie is the third version made since the book was published in 1903. Other of Miss Hurst's novels also have been filmed for the second and third times—which must be some sort of a record for a writer," she said.

"Unfortunately," she added, "I don't collect royalties on the remakes. That is because I am a poor businesswoman."

Fannie Hurst is a tall, elegant-looking woman with the clear skin of a schoolgirl and a figure without an extra pound on it. "My secret of diet is to take no food with my meals," she explained with a smile.

"I just happen to like the flower," she said. She recalled that when she was doing some television shows, viewers wrote in to ask if a microphone was concealed in the flower at her bosom. "So," she said, "I got an idea for an invention." Then she told about her recent return from Europe aboard ship. After a few days at sea, her purser confided in her, "Do you know, Miss Hurst, it's all over the ship that that flower is your ear trumpet."

"So you see," said Miss Hurst "I have an idea for another invention."

Most IQs Remain At The Same Level Throughout Lifetime

Most children's IQs (intelligence quotients) do not change. I once checked 100 high school seniors who had been tested in kindergarten. Not one had changed significantly. But a few kids do change greatly. Take a forlorn little guy out of an orphan asylum, and put him in a good home. His IQ will jump quickly. Make the reverse move, and it'll go down. Serious illness or brain injuries may lower IQs, too. But most children are either bright, average or dull for life. Don't expect your children's IQs to go up or down.

Intelligence tests are very worthwhile. We know that each child is different. Teachers have to adjust their work to the differences. They can't give one assignment to a roomful, and expect everyone to profit from it. Usually three assignments are needed—a stiff one for the bright, an average one for the average and a light one for the slow. To assign wisely, teachers must know the abilities of their pupils. Accurate guessing is impossible. Tests are essential. That's why most schools now give intelligence tests to all children.

Personality tests measure children's emotions, or feelings. They indicate whether children are reasonably well-adjusted, or maladjusted. They show the direction they are taking, for better or for worse. They also indicate the types of disorders some children have. Personality tests are expensive. They can be given to only one child at a time. The group personality tests aren't reliable. Only a specially trained psychologist can give them. Up to now only a few schools can use them. In the future all of them will. I've found that personality tests are just as important as intelligence tests, in guilding children.

Goblins Can Trip Up Child If Unsupervised By Parents

"Whether your children are tricked or treated on Halloween depends on you," Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety spokesman, says.

"Well-planned events and safety consciousness will treat youngsters to an enjoyable evening," according to Dr. Domm, medical director for an insurance firm. He warned that unsupervised children may be "tricked" by accidents on the eve of witches and goblins.

"Parents can join their boys and girls in home and community Halloween parties for their own enjoyment and their children's welfare," he said.

Many clubs and community groups sponsor such parties at parks, schools and meeting places for the purpose of treating children and protecting them from tricks. Dr. Domm strongly urged parents to take advantage of these events.

He also offered several safety suggestions:

Beware of costumes which might be inflammable. If youngsters wear masks, be sure they can breathe easily and that their vision is not impaired.

You would not ordinarily let your children wander through the streets alone at night, so do not let Halloween be an exception. Accompany the children to parties. If youngsters go door to door, stay near them.

Halloween Dance Slated At Club

The club will be decorated in ghostly and bewitching fashion for the cocktail hour which will start at 7 p.m. Dinner will be served at 8 p.m., followed by dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schneider are chairmen and they have announced there will be prizes for the most unusual costumes and entertainment for all. Mr. and Mrs. John Littell and Mrs. Robert Sitkin are assisting on the committee.

Rafael Racquet Club Plays Host To Tiburon Club

Tennis players from the Rafael Racquet Club were guests of the Tiburon Peninsula Club at a round robin match and salad luncheon last week.

The luncheon was the fifth and last exchange of the season sponsored by the special affairs section of the club tennis committee.

Mrs. Edgar Reed was in charge of the luncheon. Serving with her were Mesdames James McCormick, Aurora Garrett, Alex Smetena and Robert Bilger, Douglas Patten, William von Lackum and Donald Pickett.

Mrs. Lloyd Stark headed the TPC tennis team. Playing with her were Mesdames John Moore, William Praun, Roger Dakin, Frank Brooks, Wayne Swigart, James Kinzer and Helen Issel.

On the same day women from the TPC were guests at the Rafael Racquet Club in a similar meet. Representing the TPC were Mesdames Patten, von Lackum, Pickett, William Myers, Ed Graham, Al Birich and Marvyn Weis. Members of the San Rafael Club have invited the TPC for another exchange on Nov. 7.

Teen-Time Party

A teen-time Halloween party will be given Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Northland Assembly of God Church in Novato. A magician, food, and games will be featured.

Strawberry Point Unit Gives Dinner

Dinner was served and members of the group contributed their talents to the program. Mr. and Mrs. William McDonough pantomined an operation; Mrs. William Clarke, as a clubwoman type, presented a program including a suggestion on "how to make Brownie uniforms from muu muus and vice versa."

A quartet of teachers, Mrs. Janice Werbner and the Misses Sharon Smith, Karen Hellweg and Ann Polhemus, sang "A Little Lump of Sugar Deep Inside."

Committee members were Mesdames Leon Willat and Albert Goldberg, chairmen, William Praun, Clarke, Achille Marchini and Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan.

College Board Lost Public Confidence By Secret Meet

In all the discussion lately about the legality of the secret meetings at which the College of Marin trustees decided to purchase certain lands for college expansion, two things have clearly emerged.

First is that the revelation of the secret meetings has undermined confidence the general public should have in their college trustees.

The disclosure of the secret meetings comes at a time when the college trustees and staff have been making an extradordinary effort to present the College of Marin to the people of the county in its true light, a fine educational institution. The trustees have been seeking the counsel of citizens in the college's development. They were making good progress.

Now the general public wonders "what's been going on?"

There must be good reason, because the trustees accepted it, that one property increased $11,000, two thirds of its value, in two years. But the reason doesn't emerge from closed door sessions, so the public asks, "how come?"

It is too bad that the college thus suffers reduced confidence. Undoubtedly before long the expansion program will require the trustees to go to the people for some help, probably in the form of a bond issue. Then they'll need all the confidence and support they can get.

As to the second point: Even if the county counsel is correct (we don't believe he is) and such a secret meeting is legal, that still doesn't mean the meetings had to be closed. The trustees should consider other legal considerations, the effect of such action on the public, the adviseability of discussing spending the public's tax money behind closed doors. Then make up their own minds, not blindly follow the county counsel.

And the county counsel's advice itself distresses us too. He expanded an attorney general's opinion, which the attorney general himself had warned was "a narrow one and that any subterfuge or evasion of the purpose of the (Brown) act should not be tolerated."

We do not believe that the county counsel, paid by taxpayers' money, should use his efforts to find loopholes by which any governmental agency may evade the intent of a law. The intent of the Brown Act banning secret meetings is clearly stated at its start:

"In enacting this chapter (of the Government Code), the Legislature finds and declares that the public commissions, boards and councils and the other public agencies in this state exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business. It is the intent of the law that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly.

"The people of this state do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created."

Isn't that clear enough for everyone to understand?

Dry, Dry Days Of October

The autumn leaves are just starting to turn their autumnal colors, but those few which fell early are crisp and brown. Pick one up and it is brittle to the touch.

October is a dry, dry time. The earth is often bricky-hard and except for the wonders of water pipes, we might be calling for Gunga Din.

You Too, Can Talk Pure Ozark In One Easy Lesson—If You Want

NEW YORK (AP) — "After Billy Bob clumb the nar lath of the far tar, he was too tard to fix his flat tar."

Do you find it hard to understand that sentence? If you do, you probably haven't been to the Ozark Mountains recently, and it's time you went there and refreshed your knowledge of the queen's English — the English of the first Elizabeth with crown.

But the meaning is clear even to most Midwest flatland hill-billies:

"After William Robert climbed the narrow ladder of the fire tower, he was too tired to repair his flat tire."

For the millions of Americans who would like to travel through the Southern Highlands and understand what is said to them, Dale Freeman of the Springfield (Mo.) News and Leader, has compiled a guide he calls "How to talk pure Ozark in one easy lesson."

"Flar—A rose is about the purtiest flar they is. What kind of flar do you put in your biscuits? Her boy was a flar in the Air Force."

"Kin—see—daybreak."

"RANG—WHEN they got married, he put a rang on her finger, it was a double-rang sirmonie."

"Thanks—He thanks he's so smart."

"Umbrellia—What a true hill-billy wouldn't be caught dead using during a rain shar."

"Varrus—Virus, Aint Mary had the varrus and lak to passed on."

"WALLED — WILD, thet girl of hern was too walled for mah boy. There's a lot of walled life in the hills."

Club Seeking All Handicapped

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Our club is trying very hard to reach everyone in this county who is physically handicapped. We have a great deal to offer these people once we can reach them.

So many of us have incurable diseases and the only thing that keeps us from going down completely is our mental attitude and how we learn to live with what has happened to us. I, myself, have rheumatoid arthritis, my husband has multiple sclerosis, but we are determined to fight it every foot of the way and do everything we can to keep busy.

Our Indoor Sports Club was formed about 30 years ago by a small group of handicapped people who wanted to be able to get out and meet with others with the same problems with the hope they could help each other to accept what has happened to them and to find things that they could do together.

We try to stress the ability we have and to push the actual disability to the background. We have found that by concentrating on our abilities, we have been able to do many things.

Our local San Rafael chapter was started just eight short years ago and we now have 28 active members.

We not only join together for social activities, but also keep ourselves self-supporting by raising our own funds and were recently able to loan our home fund $15,000 to help it get started.

We have set a high goal for ourselves. We want to reach every physically handicapped person in Marin County and try to get them to our meetings so they, too, can see what we are doing.

Letters are being sent out to every doctor and every church in this county in hopes that they can tell their handicapped patients or friends of our organization. We are continually looking for ways to get our members out and to provide them with good recreational facilities that offer not only a good time but also offer in many cases, excellent therapy.

We have a good bowling program at Nave Lanes on Tuesday afternoons. Many of our chapters have started good swimming programs and we've been working all summer to try and start one here in our county.

We have a co-organization with us, The Good Sports, physically able people who are always there to help us. Without their help we could never manage, but they are so few.

If you know of anyone who could benefit from our club, the Indoor Sports for the physically handicapped, or someone who could give a few hours of their time for our Good Sports, please contact me, Betty Mack, 1650 Center Rd., Novato, and we will have someone call on you to explain the club further.

Must Demand Disarmament

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The following is a copy of a letter I sent today to William D. Fusselman, chairman of Marin County Civil Defense Committee:

Dear Mr. Fusselman:

It hardly seems possible to me that you are planning, as Marin County disaster and defense chairman, such a fantastic fall-out community shelter project as I read about in today's (Oct. 19) Independent-Journal.

To lead people to think that any shelter would be proof against blast, heat, concussion plus, lastly, fall-out is a cruel deception.

There is in my opinion only one kind of protection against all of these results of thermonuclear blasts and that is complete total disarmament immediately in all the world.

This is what we must remand, and not frauds on our citizens. Mr. Fusselman, speak out now for peace through more negotiations 'til peace is assured forever.

Find Rational Defense Plan

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

One of the purposes of liberal education is to facilitate the ability to solve problems. Most problems can be solved by the application of problem-solving methodology.

For the benefit of our public officials who are unaware of this method it is presented below in somewhat abbreviated form:

1. What is the problem? Is the right question being asked?

2. Investigate ALL of the relevant information available on the subject.

3. If step two doesn't answer the question, then design a procedure that will. This involves many possibilities, the most salient one being rational (as compared to irrational) thought processes. This step always involves collecting data and new information of a kind that everyone knows what everyone else is saying. The data must be pertinent and reliable.

4. Analyze the newly acquired data.

5. Draw conclusions. An attempt is frequently made to have the conclusions follow from the data.

The current civil defense pronouncements do not appear to reflect thinking of this order. The Board of Supervisors should discontinue any civil defense plans until they have been arrived at by this procedure.

BENNETT CERF

NBC sent Edwin Newman and a film production crew out to Sauk Center, Minn., to cover a celebration in honor of the late Sinclair Lewis (Sauk Center was the locale for Lewis' famed best-seller, "Main Street.")

Newman shipped 10,000 feet of film back to New York, but nobody could find it when the time came to put it on the air. Finally, NBC's top sleuth solved the riddle. The Sauk Center film had been stored under "Polio"—a tribute, as it were, to the vaccine that bears Jonas Salk's name.

George Heister tells of a woman who invaded a psychiatrist's office cradling a white duck in her arms. "Can I help you?" inquired the psychiatrist. "Oh, it isn't I who needs help, it's my poor husband," explained the woman. "He thinks he's a duck." (Everything's coming up neurosis."

No Owner Ever Owns A Cat, It's The Cat Who Owns Owner

Memo to Miriam: Marin County is expected to join in observance of International Cat Week starting the first Sunday of next month. On your claws! Bystanders are hereby informed that Miriam is The Cat Next to Next Door. Through indulgence of wife Agnes, Miriam seems to think she lives with us too.)

We trust Miriam will pass our bulletin along to all the cool cats of Marin. Of these there are plenty, and some hot ones as well.

National statistics give America's cat population as 21 million. A somewhat puzzling additional figure says that 20 per cent of all American families own 1.2 cats each, which I regard as open to question.

IN THE FIRST place I fail to see how one would exercise ownership of two-tenths of a cat. In the second place I know that nobody owns any fact fractional or whole. The cats own the owners.

Theoretically, Miriam belongs to the family of the lamented Chester, chronicled in these columns. In practice Miriam, like Chester, is boss.

The Goulds could make no claim to ownership, but contrariwise, there is no faintest doubt that Miriam has staked out considerable claim on us.

At any hour, and with no notice, Miriam enters and though a small neat puss, positively swaggers about the place. She demands white chicken, will settle for warmed milk. Her claws are sharpened wherever it suits her fancy—until, that is, Agnes detects the operation. Then there is sometimes a clash of wills with Miriam the temporary loser.

BULLIED BY bluejays as a rule whenever we sit out under the oaks, sometimes we find peace descending and we know that Miriam is near.

She needs no International Cat Week to put ego into her cosmos. But Cat Week is coming so here is due notice.

In case this subject catches you uninformed, be it known that the week is sponsored by the American Feline Society, Inc., of New York, modestly terming itself "the world's largest cat organization."

That is the first I ever heard of cats being industrialized, but I'm far from surprised. Any day now Miriam, already a capitalist, may be presentting terms from the Marin Cat Union, scince she is bound with feline foresight to work both sides of the street.

SPECIALTY OF the socity, the handout further remarks, is "service operation" yet it goes on:

Apparently the society provides food, medicine, supplies and equipment with the aid of 61 regional chairmen and resident vice-presidents plus 159 member societies domestic and abroad. It also goes in for such good works as spreading the word that there is no such thing as "cat scratch disease."

SINCE I NEVER before heard of cat scratch disease this leaves me cool as the cats. But it is interesting to read further that "A cat's mouth is, bacteriologically speaking, much cleaner than man's."

I'm glad they hedged that statement. Frankly, when Miriam speeaks up to complain that her food is late, she can be pretty foul-mouthed.

At any rate, I expect her to whoop for International Cat Week. And I hope she keeps it clean.

Republicans Aren't Too Critical But They Should Stand Behind Words

WASHINGTON — I should like to deal with two questions which have come from a number of readers:

1—Doesn't extreme partison criticism of President Kennedy play into Khrushchev's hands by giving the impression of a divided country?

2—Doesn't so much bi-partisanship in foreign policy mean that the Republicans are neglecting their responsibility as the opposition party? Shouldn't they be speaking out more rather than less?

My judgment is that Kennedy is not being unduly criticized. Bi-partisanship in foreign policy does not mean forgoing vigorous debate. Republican criticism of the administration is entirely in order and has not been abused.

TWO OF THE principal Republican critics of Kennedy's handling of foreign policy have been former President Eisenhower and the chairman of the Republican National Committee, Rep. William E. Miller. Gen. Eisenhower took particular pains to stress the need of supporting the President when he said:

"Though we may have, and may continue to have misgivings, all of us are, with our men in uniform, standing guard tonight in Berlin. No matter what our reservations, the President has our unstinting support as he employs all his will and wisdom against those in the world who scoff at freedom and regard humanity with contempt."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY at his latest press conference suggested—quite rightly, I think—that the Republicans ought to propose constructive alternatives if they do not approve of what is being done. Whereupon Miller made two other highly significant statements on foreign policy.

"We propose again that the President take firm action to back up our state determination to prevent Communist conquest of South Vietnam and the other free states in Southeast Asia."

That will invoive risks. It may well require sending U. S. forces to the scene. If Miller is going to talk that way—and I like to hear him talk that way—then the Republicans will need to be prepared to support resolutely the military measures to give effect to his words.

Miller also made this statement: "We propose again that the President take the leadership in forming close bonds among the free nations of the world to unite their strength in defense of freedom."

SUCH AN opportunity is going to come to us in the near future. When Britain joins the European Common Market there will be created a free trading community of 230,000,000 consumers and producers in Western Europe.

Then the United States will have the opportunity to associate itself with this galvanic enterprise to unite the strength of the free world in a way which can change the whole face of the cold war.

I hope that Miller is suggesting that such a constructive move would have Republican support.

Slow-moving trucks were increasingly crowding Marin County highways and creating new traffic menace because of long lines of cars "stuck" behind them, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Forgetting What Made Us Great

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have read Mr. Bugrer's letter (Oct. 18) concerning our handling of the Russian situation with little surprise, but with much concern. I suspect that many of those who are frantically digging holes in their back yards have much the same idea that Mr. Burger does. That is, they predict that the United States will soon find it advisable to strike first.

After all, they reason, aren't we the greatest people on earth? Isn't our great wealth attributable to our great talent, our great ambition and our unequaled judgement? Can we afford to let another nation rise to compete with us; in world markets, in the world of science, in the world of sports? We know we are best, so why take the chance that they will do us in?

These people do not seem to realize what has made this nation as great as it is. It has not been made great by striking the first blow. It has not been made great by an arrogant foreign policy. It has been made great by the fine principles on which its government was founded and by those Americans who have been willing to defend those principles for the past 185 years, not only in this nation, but all over the world.

If we are now willing to throw away these principles to save our precious necks, all is lost. We might still be alive, but would have little to live for. We would have given up much more than we would have gained.

In closing, there seems to be increasing evidence that the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" does not hold any real meaning for some people these days.

Dignity Of Man Will Triumph

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In your Oct. 20 edition you published a letter from a Mrs. Wm. H. Short of Larkspur concerning fallout shelters. I would like to take issue with her statements, which are based on her opinion to which she is certainly entitled.

First she believes there is little value in building shelters and that only gullible people believe there is safety to be found in them. I am a gullible person. The United States government is a gullible government. Our armed services are gullible armed services.

However, it is this gullibilty that, if the time comes when bombs fall, will enable the military and the prepared civilians to survive and carry on. Their survival means the survival of our country and to carry it a step further, possible Mrs. Short's.

Now what is a shelter? It is not a bomb shelter as no shelter will survive a direct hit. However, direct hits will affect a relatively small proportion of our population and this portion will not know the difference one way or the other.

The remainder of the population is in grave danger from fallout. Even Mrs. Short must recognize this fact. The above is based on the assumption that the possibility of war exists. No one, I believe, will discount this possibility . . .

A fallout shelter may not be the ultimate defense, but it is the best thing we have at present and it works, believe it or not. Some will work better than others due to the material of which they are built. Mrs. Short lives in a shelter of sorts, her home, and if she has a basement underground, she is really quite well off.

No one goes out unprotected when it's raining rain. The consequences of doing this is getting wet. This is not fatal. But when it's raining fallout . . . this can be fatal . . .

Now who will occupy these shelters? Defeatist, brainwashed individuals? Maybe it would be better to ask who would not occupy the shelters.

Take a sunny day on Market Street. Rain is forecast but not a cloud is to be seen. . . . Convertibles have their tops down, everyone is enjoying the weather. All of a sudden a rain shower comes up. Very few people have umbrellas. Everyone runs for shelter; convertibles put their tops up; other cars roll up their windows.

Now who is the guy staying in the rain and getting all wet? Who is the driver that leaves his top down and makes a pool of his car? What good samaritan, who is under shelter, goes out into the rain unprotected to roll up the windows of the parked cars and in doing so ruins his suit?

What are the people who came downtown prepared with umbrellas going to do? Most probably they . . .

with others as long as it still manages to protect them . . .

Let's replace rain with fallout. Is it a brainwashed defeatist who gets under cover? . . . The same common sense used to keep from getting wet could and should be used to keep from possibly getting killed by fallout . . .

I speak as one who has an excellent chance of not surviving if war starts. I am committed and prepared to give my life, if necessary, to protect people like Mrs. Short.

Mrs. Short, I want you to be prepared. I want you to live. I want you to work for the peace you talk about. I want you to accept the possibility that people will survive that are not defeatists and brainwashed individuals and that the dignity of man will triumph in the end.

If it doesn't, I, and many like me, will have served in vain.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of the year with 67 to follow in 1961.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1854 some 670 men of an English light cavalry brigade fighting in the Crimean War, charged a heavily protected Russian artillery post at Balaklava. The famous charge, "The Charge of the Light Brigade," is one of the most heroic episodes in British military history.

In 1923, the Teapot Dome Scandals began to unfold as Sen. Thomas Walsh of Montana demanded a public hearing on the Department of the Interior's leasing of two naval oil reserves to private corporations.

A thought for today: German poet Johann Goethe said: "He only earns his freedom and existence who daily conquers them anew."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters, Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Opening lead — ♡ J

West opened the jack of hearts, and dummy's queen was covered by the king and ace. Now South was in trouble. The opponents were in position to take two hearts and two diamonds as soon as they won the lead.

South had to run the two black suits without loss. Unthinkingly, he led a trump to the king, won a trump finesse with the jack and drew a third round of trumps. When the clubs failed to break, however, South was down.

South needed a 3-2 break in trumps with the queen of spades in the East hand. He didn't need a favorable break in clubs, and it was foolish to bank on it.

MUST SAVE KING: South must save dummy's king of spades as the final entry to the clubs. There is no need to win the first round of trumps with dummy's king.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, South should lead a low club to dummy's queen. Then South leads a low trump from dummy and wins a finesse with the jack of spades.

If the clubs break 3-2, this procedure is quite safe. South can then lead a trump to the king and run the clubs.

When the clubs fail to break, South is relieved to see that player with four clubs also has the missing queen of trumps. South leads a club to dummy's king, ruffs a low club, and then leads a trump to dummy's king. He is now in position to cash dummy's last club, assuring the contract.

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. In general, be ready to pass smoothly and casually when an opponent opens ahead of you in your best suit. Let him be the one that gets into trouble.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

TARRANT, ET AL ANNEX 1961-4

To the Honorable Sanitary Board of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanifary District
Marin County,
State of California

The undersigned petitioners respectfully represent:

That they are owners of real property within the territory hereinafter described, which real property represents at least seventy-five per cent (75%) of the total assessed valuation of the territory as shown by the last equalized County assessment roll, and do hereby petition that all of said territory be annexed to the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, Marin County, State of California;

That the territory proposed to be annexed is not within any other sanitary district and is in the same county as the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, to-wit: County of Marin. That said territory is contiguous to said District and that the exterior boundaries of said territory are particularly described in Exhibit "A" hereto attached and by reference made a part hereof;

That the total assessed valuation of said territory proposed to be annexed as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county of Marin is $4,200.00; that the assessed valuation of each portion thereof owned by the undersigned petitioners, as shown by said roll, is set opposite their respective names, and that the total assessed valuation of all portions owned by them is $4,160.00, which is at least seventy-five per cent (75%) of the total assessed valuation of the territory proposed to be annexed, as shown by said roll.

WHEREFORE, petitioners pray that said property be annexed to said District in the manner provided in Article 3 of Chapter 9 of Part 1 of Division 6 of the Health and Safety Code of the State of California.

The following are the signatures of the owners petitioning for said annexation, with the amount of property and its assessed valuation as shown by the last equalized County Assessment Roll set opposite their names:

Abandoned Cars Found In Marin

Two cars were found damaged and abandoned in Marin County yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A small German compact bus used as a delivery truck by Marin Town and Country Drug Store at Bel Aire was found crashed over a bank between the Marin Country Day School and Paradise Cay after it had hit a utility pole, apparently some time last night, the CHP said.

A sedan owned by Shirley Smith of 352 South Morningsun Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, ran away after it was parked in driving range and tumbled 500 or 600 feet down a bank off Shoreline Highway between Tennessee Valley and Tamalpais Valley, CHP said.

Schools To Have Jobs Offices

Job placement offices for San Rafael and Terra Linda High School students will be opened at the two schools next month, Edwin W. Ayer, San Rafael manager of the California State Employment Service, announced today.

Beginning Nov. 9, a placement office at San Rafael High will be open every Thursday from 8 a. m. to 10 a. m., he said. Starting Nov. 10 the office at Terra Linda High will be open every Friday from 8 a. m. to 10 a. m.

The operation is being set up at the schools to register job applicants and find part-time and vacation jobs for students and permanent jobs for graduates and drop-outs, he said.

6 Considered For Tamalpais School Board

Six persons are being considered by the Tamalpais Union High School district trustees to fill the vacancy on the board created by the resignation of Howard I. McGill of Tiburon on Oct. 16.

Under a new law passed this year by the state legislature, local boards fill their own vacancies. If a person is not appointed within 60 days, the county board of education is required to name the replacement.

CONSIDERED

George White of 121 Avenida Miraflores, Tiburon, who was defeated for the board in the April election last year. White, owner of a Tiburon hardware store, wrote a letter to the board asking that his name be considered.

Mrs. Joseph Wallace of 8 Bayview Avenue, Belvedere, and John Bridgeman of 62 Alcatraz Avenue, Belvedere. Mrs. Wallace is a former member of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization. Bridgeman, with McCann and Erickson Advertising Agency of San Francisco, is a former member of the Reed School District Board. Both were recommended by David Ring, chairman of the Reed district board.

POST CARDS

Richard De Lew of 259 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, who was suggested for consideration by numerous post cards sent to the board. De Lew is chief chemist for Yosemite Chemical Co. of San Francisco. De Lew was a candidate for the Tam District board in 1959.

William B. Wolfson of 12 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Ross, who told members of the board he would like to serve. Wolfson, an attorney with Gardiner, Riede and Elliot of San Rafael, was an unsuccessful candidate in the Tamalpais district board election last year.

Roger F. Morse of 109 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow, a former Corte Madera town councilman and mayor, who submitted his name to the district office. Morse is staff assistant for government relations and contracts for Standard Oil Co. in San Francisco.

Merchants Prize

Costumed as a "Martian from outer space," Michael Farey of 126 Madrone Avenue, San Anselmo, won a merry-go-round for best costume at last Saturday's Halloween parade in San Anselmo under sponsorship of the San Anselmo Merchants Assn. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Farey.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

Some Words About Fallout Danger; Westinghouse Assistant Is Named

"Nothing to it!" says Northwestern National Life Insurance on the dangers to human life and health from atomic testing fallout.

The hazard is statistically comparable to the risk of the average American drowning in the bathtub. If deaths from slipping on a cake of soap are included in the comparison the rate is even less, according to Northwestern's report. And the bathtub hazard is so small that no one in his right mind would even consider abolishing them or as grounds for not bathing.

BUT WHEN IT COMES to fallout shelters in case of war, the chemical industry itself has commenced to seek havens from radiation peril, according to McGraw-Hill's publication Chemical Week.

Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey has converted a nursing home to house key headquarters staffers, preserve records and maintain communications in case the firm's New York base becomes untenable.

Aerojet-General of Azusa is evaluating buildings on its property to determine which are resistant to blast and radiation. Rohm and Haas has built shelters at its four eastern plants. Other projects have been started by Cleveland Twist Drill Co., the American Chemical Society, U. S. Borax, Puritan Chemical Co., Stepan Chemical and Hercules Powder.

Stanford Research Center, Menlo Park has a basement shelter which it says "offers adequate protection from both blast and fallout of any type of attack expected in the Bay Area."

But not all of them are entirely sold on it, says Chemical Week. One West Coast plant declared:

"We've got better things to do with our time and money. This country is on the offensive, not the defensive."

APPOINTMENT of Donald E. Kampschrer of Greenbrae as assistant manager of the South Pacific district for Westinghouse Electric Corp. will take him with his family to Arcadia. He will also coordinate the four area apparatus sales offices in Arcadia, Bell Gardens, Compton and Van Nuys. He has been assistant manager of the Central Pacific district since 1959.

MOTORCRAFT. Renault will merge its Northern and Southern California facilities on January 1. The SF office and parts depot will be closed and operated from LA . . . American Motors has launched a Rambler demonstration-drive campaign with prizes of 104 new Ramblers, 100 Kelvinators and 3,000 others . . . Annual Mobil Mileage Rally of foreign cars will be held in Southern California on November 12. Imports entered will range from a $15,000 Rolls Royce to a $1,400 Fiat . . . As much as 35 per cent more tread wear can be expected from a new synthetic rubber derived from petroleum. For tires it will be compounded with natural and other synthetic rubbers.

CROWELL MOTORS, 1560 Fourth Street, San Rafael is in the process of moving to 1612 Fourth Street., Sam Crowell says he expects to be completely transferred before the week is out, will have half again as much space which he needs badly to handle them. He's been at the present spot for more than five years.
